REGAIN MOST OF LOST TERRITORY

British Attack Germans North of the Somme.

HARD FIGHTING CONTINUES

Teutons Are Heavily Bombarding the French Positions Near Verdun—Russians Are Advancing in Galicia and Have Crossed the Carpathians Into Hungary.

London, July 20.—There has been no abatement in the sanguinary struggle between the British and Germans north of the Somme which began Tuesday after a German bombardment and an attack by heavy infantry forces which gave to the Teutons parts of the village of Longueval and Delville wood.

In counter attacks the British succeeded in regaining most of the territory they had lost and in addition dispersed with their artillery fire a large body of Germans who were massing for another attack to the south of Delville wood.

Hard fighting is still going on in this sector.

To the south of the Somme the French report the capture of several German trenches.

Around Verdun—in the region of Hill 304 and on the Fleury sector—the Germans are heavily bombarding the French positions, probably prearranging the usual infantry attacks.

The Russians in the vicinity of Riga are hammering hard with infantry and artillery Field Marshal von Hindenburg's forces, but, according to Berlin, all their attacks thus far have failed with heavy losses.

Russian Artillery Active.

Farther south, in Volynia, the Russians along the Stokhod river and to the west and southwest of Lutsk are heavily bombarding the positions of the Teutonic allies.

While Petrograd asserts that the Russians in Galicia are advancing toward the passes of the Carpathian mountains leading to the plains of Hungary, Vienna says that southwest of Delatyn the Austrians have driven the Russians back across the River Pruth.

The Russian operations are again becoming interesting. The Russian military critics dwell on what they describe as "the mechanical regularity" of the strategic and tactical blows dealt by Russia on her various fronts and the absence of any indications that the enemy forces are able effectively to parry them.

The recent Russian successes have brought them much nearer Vladimir-Volynski and Kovel, and the German communications between Kovel and Lemberg are threatened by the Russian advance to Stoyanoff and Sokal, preliminary to the investment of Lemberg.

Invasion of Hungary Begins.

In Transylvania the Russians have obtained two important passes in the Carpathians, Jablonitz and Kiribaba, while they also hold command of the Delatyn-Budapest railway. Their cavalry is moving in the rear of General Pflanzer's forces between Kimpolung and Kuty, and apparently the invasion of Hungary has begun.

German naval aircraft have dropped a large number of bombs on Reval in the Gulf of Finland, causing, according to Berlin, damage to Russian cruisers, troop boats and submarines in the gulf and to military establishments on land.

In Asia Minor, south of Trebizond, additional gains for the Russians against the Turks are chronicled by Petrograd, while Constantinople reports slight successes for the Turkish arms against the British along the Euphrates river and north of the Persian gulf near Basra.

BAN ON NEW POTASH MINES

German Council Stops Work on Shafts Begun Since War.

Berlin, July 20.—The federal council has issued an order prohibiting the sinking of further shafts for development of potash mines during the war. Work on all shafts begun since July, 1914, must be suspended. The ground taken by the council is that labor is too scarce in Germany to waste it upon such unnecessary work as opening new potash mines.

CHILD LABOR BILL CAUCUS

Senate Democrats May Pass on President's Request Tuesday.

Washington, July 20.—President Wilson's request that the child labor bill be passed by the senate before adjournment of congress will be submitted to a caucus of senate Democrats, probably Tuesday night.

WAR IS CAUSING NO WORRY

General Robertson Praises British Colonial Troops.

London, July 20.—"No, we really are not worried by the course of the war," General Sir William Robertson, chief of the imperial staff at army headquarters, said in an interview.

"As to the new offensive a glance at the map will tell the story of our progress. And the happy expression of our wounded soldiers from the front reduces the specter of the men. Do you notice that all published photographs show them smiling or laughing?"

The general smiled as he spoke. Broad of shoulder and sturdy of form, with a reach of arm that might well be the envy of any prize fighter, Sir William's personality tells of tremendous vigor that seems to belie his fifty-six years. The iron hand in the velvet glove is sensed, but not perceived.

The general spoke glowingly of the response to the colors of the colonial troops, particularly the Canadians.

GOVERNMENT HANDS TIED BY BRYAN PACT

Washington, July 20.—Vigorous protest will be made by this government against the British blacklist affecting individuals and firms in the United States, but no remedial results are expected.

The Bryan peace treaty with Great Britain, fostered by President Wilson, ties the hands of the administration so far as effective reprisals are concerned and the British government's action is recognized here to be in conformity with continental rules of international law.

The British government continues to hold, as in its last communication to the United States, that the "trading with the enemy act" is purely domestic legislation. It asserts the right to prevent its own subjects in its own territory from trading with the enemy by any direct or indirect means.

If American firms or individuals carrying on trade with Germany suffer as a consequence the British government takes the view that it cannot, nevertheless, permit its subjects to deal with these firms.

SHIP BILL IS APPROVED

Senate Commerce Committee Reports Measure for Passage.

Washington, July 20.—A favorable report on the administration shipping bill was submitted by the senate commerce committee. It is expected to have the undivided support of Democratic senators.

TWELVE HUNDRED INVITED

Moosers to Have Seats at Hughes Notification.

New York, July 20.—Three thousand invitations to attend the meeting in Carnegie hall here, on the evening of July 31, to give Charles E. Hughes formal notification of his nomination, are being sent out by James B. Reynolds, secretary of the Republican national committee. Twelve hundred seats will be turned over to George W. Perkins for distribution among prominent Progressives. Among those who will receive invitations are Theodore Roosevelt and William H. Taft.

PROHIB PLATFORM COMMITTEE REPORT ANTI-CATHOLIC PLANK

Fierce Fight in Committee Behind Closed Doors—Packers Say U. S. Soldiers Best Fed

British are Driving Germans Before Them in Northern France—Deutschland Ready to Go

Report Conservative Anti-Catholic Plank

(By United Press)

St. Paul, July 20.—The prohibition platform committee has reported to the convention a conservative anti-Catholic plank, advocating freedom of American institutions and the separation of the church and state. Attempt Incorporate Anti-Catholic Plank

(By United Press)

St. Paul, July 20.—Before the arrival of Wm. Sulzer on the scene the prohibitionists for the presidency seemed assured. In the platform committee the Sulzer forces are attempting to incorporate an anti-Catholic plank and a determined fight will be made on this which may reach the convention floor. For the first time in its history this party the resolutions committee is working behind closed doors. The anti-Catholics declare that the religious issue is greater than the prohibition issue, and the conservatives are opposing the anti-Catholic plank fearing that this action might antagonize the Catholic dry vote.

Anti-Catholics To Endorse Him

(By United Press)

St. Paul, July 20.—Wm. Sulzer has issued a statement that if he is nominated by the prohibitionists for the presidency that the American party anti-Catholic political organization would also nominate him, and that he would thus be able to poll 2,000,000 votes.

RUSSIANS OCCUPY KGI

Petrograd, July 20.—The Russians occupied Kgi, repulsing all attacks of the enemy in their advance in the Ogul-Arsonovitch region.

GERMAN POSITIONS BEING DRENCHED WITH BRITISH HIGH EXPLOSIVE FIRE

(By United Press)

With British Army in Northern France, July 20.—Every foot of the new German positions behind the line the British captured north of Somme is being carefully and slowly drenched with a destructive British high explosive fire. The British are preparing for new attacks and the giant British shells from guns miles in the rear are dropping on the German works, the British large and small artillery pieces cooperating. The roar of guns continues and resembles heavy peals of thunder. The Germans are replying only occasionally and they are either seriously outgunned or are saving their ammunition. The British aircraft, unmolested, is directing the artillery fire of the allies.

FRENCH RESUME OFFENSIVE SUCCESSFUL GERMAN DRIVE

(By United Press)

Paris, July 20.—An official report says that the French resumed the offensive on both sides of the Somme last night making a successful drive against the Germans northwest and southwest of Peronne. North of Somme the French infantry established new lines along Comblès Clery, on the narrow gauge railway, and taking 400 prisoners. South of Somme the French stormed and took the entire first line of trenches between Barleaux and Soyecourt.

WILL MAKE INVESTIGATION

(By United Press)

London, July 20.—Premier Asquith told the house of commons that an inquiry and investigation as to the campaign at the Dardanelles and Mesopotamia had been decided on.

GERMANS GAIN AND LOSE

(By United Press)

London, July 20.—An official report says that the Germans took a little ground in the counter attack at Longueval and Delville, but that the British recaptured it.

Food Situation Improved.

Berlin, July 20.—The food situation in Germany and Austria-Hungary is showing considerable improvement. Harvesting has begun in Galicia and the first reports indicate a good crop. An Austro-Hungarian commission, empowered to make an agricultural agreement, has arrived in Berlin.

PARTY FORMS TO PROMOTE PEACE

German Body Plans Campaign of Oratory.

PRINCE VON WEDEL CHAIRMAN

While the Organization Is Without a Fixed Program It Is Understood to Favor Only an Honorable Peace and Opposes Annexation of Territory.

Berlin, July 20.—A campaign of oratory designed to check the extreme annexationist movement, represented by the Conservatives and the right wing of the National Liberals, is being organized by the so called German national committee, whose chairman is Prince von Wedel, formerly viceroy of Alsace-Lorraine and now general adjutant to the emperor.

The organizing committee includes many of the most prominent names in German science, industry, trade and agriculture.

One of the executive officers in a statement said that the committee was without a fixed program, but that the guiding principle was the "ismarckian one of achieving the attainable."

"We frankly want an honorable peace," he said, "but not at any price. We do not want peace delayed through the efforts of those who demand that we take all we can get and hold fast to everything our military power enables us to, without regard to future consequences."

Desires Public Discussion.

"Our desire is heartily to support the chancellor's policies, but we disagree with the government's prohibition of public discussion of the aims of the war."

The campaign will begin on Oct. 1, when public addresses will be made in fifty cities. Police permission already has been granted, which is significant, considering the government's previous policy regarding the discussion of the war aims.

The principal newspapers already are in favor of the committee's program. The Catholic newspapers are for the most part with the committee.

It is significant that Dr. Spahn, the Catholic leader, came to the defense of the chancellor in the reichstag against the pamphleteers opposing his policy.

Since then it has grown more evident that the Catholics are gravitating toward the parties of the left because of their support of the chancellor against the tendencies of the Conservative parties and the annexationist plans which are strongly supported by the agrarian leaders and groups of big manufacturers.

GUEST KILLED WHEN HOBOS BURN HOTEL

Alhambra, Mont., July 20.—Despite the pressing demand for labor in Montana so called floaters are invading this state in large numbers and the authorities are considering the necessity of taking special measures to prevent the wave of robberies and murders which have marked past seasons. That the situation is serious was indicated by the destruction of the Sunnyside hotel at Alhambra by hoboes, who looted the money drawer and escaped after endangering the lives of thirty guests, who were forced to rush from the burning building in thin attire to save their lives.

Donald Driscoll was unable to escape and died from his injuries.

According to reports the floaters are streaming back and forth across the three state transcontinental lines in large numbers.

Many vandals and some law-breakers are terrorized, train crews defied and food seized at farm houses.

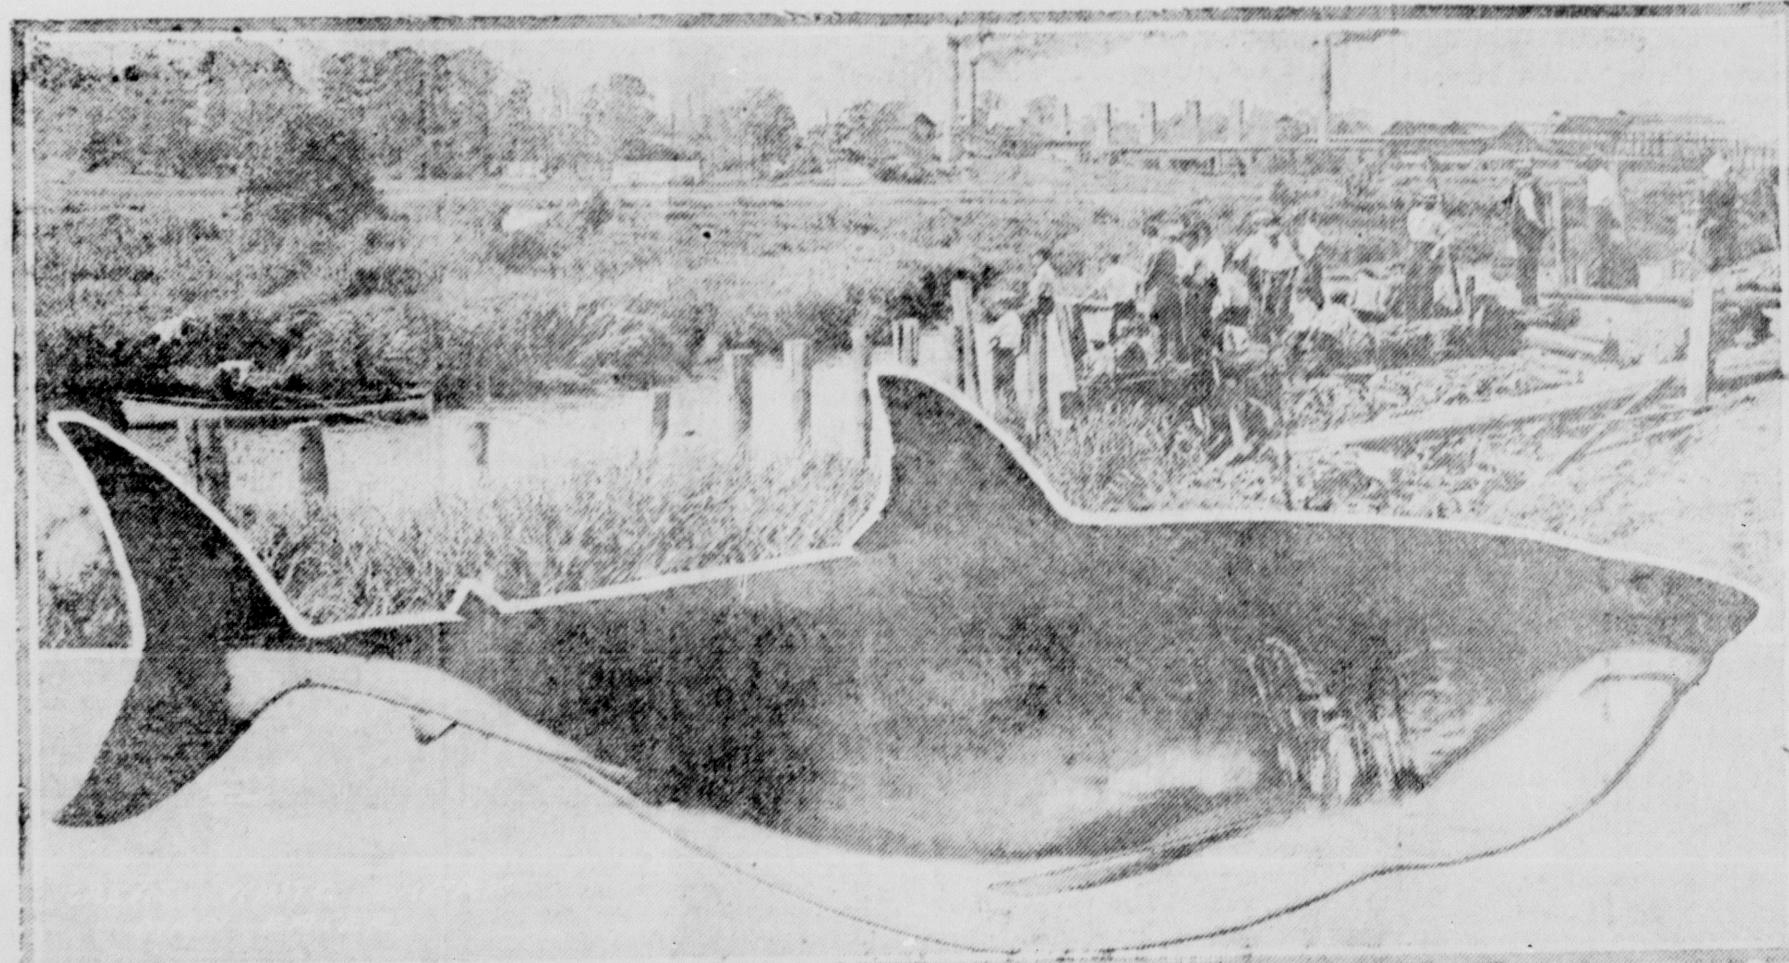

GREAT INSURANCE POLICY

Wisconsin Concern Looks After All Its Employees.

Kenosha, Wis., July 20.—The biggest life insurance policy ever written in the United States and probably the biggest ever written by any one company was signed here when Simmons company, makers of iron and brass beds, took out a policy in the Equitable Life Insurance company totaling more than $3,000,000 and covering the lives of every one of the more than 5,000 employees of the company.

The company has delivered to every employee the same policy and the only distinction is in the amount of insurance. Men who have been in the employ of the company for a year or less are given a policy of $500 and for each year of added service up to ten years $100 is added to the amount of the policy.

Where Man-Eating Shark Killed Man and Boy

At the spot where the boat is shown in this photograph a man-eating shark killed a man and a boy. It is Matawan Creek, a small stream or arm of New York Bay. For more than a hundred years boys have bathed in the stream at high tide, and have never feared sharks.

The lower picture shows a stuffed great white shark in the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences. He is twelve feet long. Many photographs of harmless sharks have been published, but this is one of the two species, according to Robert Cushman Murphy, an authority on sharks, which is dangerous.

The chief interest in the raid of sharks on the Atlantic coast bathing resorts is the fact that it may mean the destruction of hundreds of millions of bathing pavilions and hotels. Unless means are found to protect bathers the hundreds of thousands who support this enormous industry will leave the coast for inland resorts. The advent of the sharks is a very serious business matter.

SHOOTING WITH A RIFLE.

The Proper Way to Aim if One Aspires
to Good Marksmanship.

Walter Winans, the famous American sharpshooter, who lives in England, writes to the Scientific American
the following directions as to the proper way to aim a rifle:

"The way to shoot is, first, put a big ivory front sight in place of the black
one used for target shooting.

"Most real objects one shoots at are more or less dark, and the black front
sight is difficult to see on the object;
the white one shows up at once.

"Next, have your head sight put on the rifle at the distance from your eye
that you can read print best.

"When shooting do not try to focus
a black bullseye, a black front sight
and a black hind sight and a half dozen
other things alternately while you hold
on to your rifle like grim death.

"Look at the object you want to hit.
If it is moving judge how much allowance in front you must make, bring up your rifle to your shoulder, swinging it with the movement of the object you want to hit, and press the trigger as the butt touches your shoulder.

"The bullet will go where you want
it to without your noticing the sights
at all.

"If you want to be a good rifle shot
at game, or as a soldier, join the nearest clay pigeon shooting club, and when you can break 90 per cent of the clays
you can rest perfectly confident that you can hit a man every shot you fire
if being charged by an enemy if you have a rifle in your hands instead of a shotgun.

"If you practice in a 'coal hole' rifle
gallery at a stationary black bullseye
with a black front sight and see 'three front sights' and a 'blurred back sight'
you are not learning to shoot, but merely ruining your eyesight."

Cornish Pies.

There are several dishes peculiar to Cornwall, and a pasty is one. It resembles an apple turnover, but is composed of meat, potato and seasoning, finely chopped. Almost every kind of food is put into a Cornish pie. Squab is a great favorite. Herby pie is another peculiar dish, composed of nettles, popper cross, parsley, mustard and spinach, together with thin slices of pork. Pies are also made with leeks and pilchards, goose feet, gizzard and blood, raisins, sugar and apples and mackerel, parsley and cream.—London
Standard.

Her Proof.

"I've brought back those eggs you gave me this morning," said the new belle as she began to take the articles in question from her basket. "They're duck eggs."

"Duck eggs?" sneered the grocery boss. "You're mistaken, ma'am. I don't never sell no duck eggs."

"But I tested them," triumphed the matrimonial novice. "I dropped them
into water and they floated."—Judge.

Domestic Discussion.

"My husband accuses me of extravagance. I spent about $10,000 last year."

"I wouldn't mind being scolded on that basis. I have to stand for the same accusation on $20 a week."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Bohemia.

Bohemia has not existed as a separate independent nation since 1020.
That year was fought the battle of the White mountain, which resulted in the total overthrow of the Bohemian
forces and the subjugation of the country to Austria.

Eagles on the Hunt.

Eagles usually hunt in pairs, one bird frightening the prey from its hiding place and the other pouncing on it
as it tries to escape.

FISHED WITH A GANDER.

And Now the Poor Fowl Shows a Distinct Aversion to Water.

A gander was so upset by experiments made upon and through him by
a mischievous boy that for a long time
he would not go into the water.

The gander's determination to abstain from water as a means of bathing grew out of the following circumstances:

The boy thought he would tie a fishing line to the gander's leg and with a hook properly baited turn the bird out into the water. The bait was a frog.

The gander went into the mill pond,
where he swam around for half an hour, turning "flips" and diving for food. Suddenly he felt a pull at his leg and looked as surprised as the
"lone fisherman" when he caught a whale.

The gander thought there was something the matter, and he looked to ascertain the cause. The pickerel on the hook gave several jerks, whereupon the gander decided he wanted to go home.

He at once started for the shore, but the pickerel on the hook wanted to go
the other way. The gander seemed frightened at first. Then he evidenced signs of anger and tried to fly to shore,
but the pickerel pulled him back.

After half an hour of the hardest
work he had ever done the gander
came ashore, dragging a six pound
pickerel up the bank.

The boy took off the pickerel and baited the hook with another frog. He tried to induce the gander to go in for another swim, but no amount of persuasion could get the bird to do so. He simply would not be driven in. For many weeks the gander would not go into the water. He would proceed with the rest of the flock to the water's edge, but there he would stop. He would seem to be arguing with them
with reference to the danger they were courting.—Los Angeles Times.

One Popular Irish Secretary.

Thomas Drummond, the best of Irish secretaries and the only English
official to whom the Irish people have erected a memorial, counted among his most daring and successful achievements the establishment of the Royal Irish constabulary. All before Drummond had sought to keep the peace by the use of soldiers, but he planned to replace the troops by a police force
drawn from the ranks of the Irish peasantry. Officialdom was aghast and talked of the possibility of treason, but Drummond had his way, and the British government has never had a more faithful body of servants than the Irish constabulary.—London Chronicle.

TROUBLES AND JOYS.

The trouble with most of us is that our joys seem to sink out of sight in some inner quagmire
and our pains take root on the thinnest soil and flourish like
the green bay tree. What is the matter with us that a little irritation today can wipe out all the "recollection of yesterday's glory?"

Cats and Needles.

Cats seem to have a habit of swallowing needles. When a cat is brought to a veterinary hospital suffering with a cough the doctor always looks for a needle. In one instance Dr. Childs of
New York operated on a cat to remove
what he thought was an ordinary needle. He found a "batpin" nine inches long. But the cat's life was saved.—

SHOOTING WITH A RIFLE.

The Proper Way to Aim if One Aspires
to Good Marksmanship.

Walter Winans, the famous Ameri-
can sharpshooter, who lives in England, writes to the Scientific American
the following directions as to the proper way to aim a rifle.

"The way to shoot is, first, put a big
ivory front sight in place of the black
one used for target shooting.

"Most real objects one shoots at are
more or less dark, and the black front
sight is difficult to see on the object;
the white one shows up at once.

"Next, have your head sight put on
the rifle at the distance from your eye
that you can read print best.

"When shooting do not try to focus
a black bulls-eye, a black front sight
and a black hind sight and a half dozen
other things alternately while you hold
on to your rifle like grim death.

"Look at the object you want to hit.
If it is moving judge how much allowance in front you must make, bring up your rifle to the movement of the object you want to hit, and press the trigger as
the butt touches your shoulder.

"The bullet will go where you want
it to without your noticing the sights
at all.

"If you want to be a good rifle shot
at game, or as a soldier, join the nearest clay pigeon shooting club, and when
you can break 50 per cent of the clays
you can rest perfectly confident that
you can hit a man every shot you fire
if being charged by an enemy if you have a rifle in your hands instead of a shotgun.

"If you practice in a 'coal hole' rifle
gallery at a stationary black bulls-eye
with a black front sight and see three
front sights and a 'blurred' back sight'
you are not learning to shoot, but
merely ruining your eyesight."

Cornish Pies.

There are several dishes peculiar to Cornwall, and a tasty one. It resembles an apple turnover, but is composed of meat, potato and seasoning,
finely chopped. Almost every kind of
food is put into a Cornish pie. Squab pie is a great favorite. Herby pie is another peculiar dish, composed of nettles, pepper cross, parsley, mustard and spinach, together with thin slices of
pork. Pies are also made with leeks and pichards, goose feet, gizzard and blood, raisins, sugar and apples and
mackerel, parsley and cream--London
Standard.

Her Proof.

"I've brought back those eggs you gave me this morning," said the new bride as she began to take the articles
in question from her basket. "They're
duck eggs."

"Duck eggs?" snorted the grocery boss. "You're mistaken, ma'am. I
don't never sell no duck eggs."

"But I tested them," triumphed the
matrimonial novice. "I dropped them
into water and they floated."--Judge.

Domestic Digestion.

"My husband accuses me of extrava-
year."

"I wouldn't mind being scolded on that basis. I have to stand for the same accusation on $20 a week."--Louisville Courier-Journal.

Bohemia.

Bohemia has not existed as a separate independent nation since 1020.
That year was fought the battle of
the White mountain, which resulted in
the total overthrow of the Bohemian
forces and the subjugation of the country to Austria.

Eagles on the Hunt.

Eagles usually hunt in pairs, one
bird frightening the prey from its hiding place and the other pouncing on it
as it tries to escape.

FISHED WITH A GANDER.

And Now the Poor Fowl Shows a Distinct Aversion to Water.

A gander was upset by experiments made upon and through him by
a mischievous boy that for a long time
he would not go into the water.

The gander's determination to ab-
stain from water as a means of bathing grew out of the following circumstances:

The boy thought he would tie a fishing line to the gander's leg and with a
hook properly baited turn the bird out
into the water. The bait was a frog.

The gander went into the mill pond,
where he swam around for half an hour, turning "dipsaps" and diving for food. Suddenly he felt a pull at his leg and looked as surprised as the
"lone fisherman" when he caught a
whale.

The gander thought there was something the matter, and he looked to ascertain the cause. The pickerel on the hook gave several jerks, whereupon
the gander decided he wanted to go home.

He at once started for the shore, but
the pickerel on the hook wanted to go
the other way. The gander seemed frightened at first. Then he evidenced signs of anger and tried to fly to shore,
but the pickerel pulled him back.

After half an hour of the hardest
work he had ever done the gander
came ashore, dragging a six pound
pickerel up the bank.

The boy took off the pickerel and baited the hook with another frog. He tried to induce the gander to go in for another swim, but no amount of persuaasion could get the bird to do so. He simply would not be driven in. For
many weeks the gander would not go into the water. He would proceed
with the rest of the flock to the water's edge, but there he would stop. He would seem to be arguing with them
with reference to the danger they were
courting.--Los Angeles Times.

One Popular Irish Secretary.

Thomas Drummond, the best of Irish secretaries and the only English
official to whom the Irish people have
erected a memorial, counted among his most daring and successful achievements the establishment of the Royal Irish constabulary. All before Drummond had sought to keep the peace by
the use of soldiers, but he planned to replace the troops by a police force
drawn from the ranks of the Irish peasantry. Officialdom was aghast and
talked of the possibility of treason, but Drummond had his way, and the British government has never had a more faithful body of servants than the Irish constabulary.--London Chronicle.

TROUBLES AND JOYS.

The trouble with most of us is
that our joys seem to sink out of
sight in some inner quagmire
and our pains take root on the thinnest soil and flourish like
the green bay tree. What is the matter with us that a little irritation today can wipe out all
the "recollection" of yesterday's glory?

Cats and Needles.

Cats seem to have a habit of swallowing needles. When a cat is brought to a veterinary hospital suffering with
a cough the doctor always looks for a needle. In one instance Dr. Childs of
New York operated on a cat to remove
what he thought was an ordinary needle. He found a "happily nine inches long. But the cat's life was saved."

WOMAN'S REALM

Infantile Paralysis Preventive Measures

Note—The eastern states are being swept with infantile paralysis and the west is threatened. Every mother on the Dispatch Subscription list will profit by reading the following authoritative advice.

By SAMUEL G. DIXON, M. D., (Pennsylvania Commissioner of Health)

Infantile paralysis is a disease that affects the nervous system. It often causes death, and again, the acute stage frequently subsides and leaves paralysis of one or more of the limbs that often lasts through life. Today we do not know what causes the disease, therefore preventive measures must be broad. You must keep the children away from insect life, such as flies, mosquitoes, fleas, bed bugs, ticks, ants, lice, etc. You should see that all rats and mice around the building are killed. Pet cats and dogs should be washed with a two per cent carbolic acid solution. Everything should be kept clean about the home, including the children.

Children should be fed well but not indulged in large quantities of water, ice cream or other frozen dishes on a full stomach, as that will often cause acute indigestion and render them susceptible to other diseases. In other words, the digestion should be guarded carefully.

Children should have plenty of sleep. They should not associate with other children that are sick. Their homes should be well ventilated, but screened. All foodstuffs should be protected.

Children's mouths should be rinsed out and their throats gargled with Dobell's solution after each meal. If the children are too young to rinse or gargle, wash the mouth with a piece of fabric dipped in Dobell's solution. Children should be kept out of crowded places.

The youngsters should not be permitted to sit on the damp ground nor have their bodies chilled, day or night. They should not bathe in cold water.

CIRCUS NOTES

569 people were late for dinner, as the parade, scheduled for 10 A. M., was not under way until noon.

The Wheeler Brothers show was fairly good, but it was short some of the advertised features. "The David and Goliath" spectacle did its only stunt, not under canvas, but in the fragments of advertising written up by the advance man.

There was also a paucity of other advertised features, for instance, that terrific aerial battle never showed up, the aeroplane made no flight over the city and wasn't around any of the tents either, the aristocratic fox hunt was not pulled off, the "World at War" remained at peace for all the show did in the way of such bloodthirsty business. True, there was an armored car covered with sheet iron and the porthole's shutter flapped as the car came alongside the Model Laundry Co. delivery wagon and the team ran away and W. H. Taylor of the Lakeside Lumber Co. made a thrilling stop of the laundry wagon.

The great military display was something like the national guard—minus this, minus that, minus everything else. The Pekin Guards were still at Pekin, so far as Brainerd was concerned.

However, the horses, the elephant act, the polar bear act, the band music, the work of the aerialists, slack wire performers and others, the races, Wild West show were good. The menagerie was not very large. The show people were kind and courteous, not a bit of trouble was reported by police or sheriff, there were none of the hangers-on usual to some circuses.

The show pleased many. The only objection is that the advance advertising led people to expect too much.

BINGO.

Nelly Gray.

Almost every schoolboy of a dozen years or more ago knew somewhat of the rimes of Thomas Hood, especially the poem entitled "Faithless Nelly Gray," in which—

Ben Battle was a soldier bold
And used to war's alarms,
But a cannon ball took off his legs,
And he laid down his arms.

A correspondent of T. P.'s London Weekly calls attention to a stanza that is usually omitted in which Nelly puts her objection to the mutilated warrior in part after this fashion:

"Why, then," said she, "you've lost the feet
Of legs in war's alarms,
And now you cannot wear your shoes
Upon your feet of arms."

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Interesting Ways to Do Your Work Easily and Well.

Never blacken a gas stove. Instead, rub the outside frequently with a cloth dampened with kerosene which will remove the grease. About every four weeks wipe it with an oily cloth, and then rub briskly with a woolen one. The inside of the stove should be wiped with cottonseed oil every fortnight or so.

To keep parsley fresh for a week or so wash it thoroughly and place in a tightly covered fruit jar.

The old method of scalding tomatoes to peel them sometimes renders them soft. A better way is to scrape them carefully with the back of a knife, which loosens the skin and allows them to be peeled easily. Never use too much salt in cooking vegetables. It toughens the fibers, destroys the delicate flavors and helps to extract the valuable mineral contents.

Never cook potatoes of an uneven size together, as the small ones are sure to be overdone by the time the larger ones are cooked.

Most vegetables, excepting cabbage, cauliflower, kale, brussels sprouts and other members of the cabbage family, should be boiled in as little water as possible.

Boiled potatoes, to be light and flaky, should be served almost immediately after draining. Every housekeeper knows their soggy state if dinner is delayed. If a dry cloth is stretched tightly over the kettle holding the potatoes it will absorb the moisture and keep the potatoes in a palatable condition for at least half an hour.

Recipes always state that to prevent cream of tomato soup from curdling a pinch of soda should be added to the tomatoes before mixing with the milk or cream. If this precaution does not always prove efficacious try mixing the soda with a scant teaspoonful of cornstarch and add it to the cream before pouring into the tomato mixture.

For the Baby.

Get a store box about three feet square and eighteen inches deep. See that inside and edges are made very smooth. Make easily laundered pads for bottom from an army blanket or table felt.

Place a baby and his playthings inside. If he is inclined to throw them out fasten by strings or ribbons to edge of box so that he may haul them in again if he likes.

By holding to edge of box he will learn to walk and will be protected meantime from cold and drafts, to which a creeping baby on the floor is always exposed; also from fire, hot liquids and many things of which the little child who has the range of the house is always in danger.

If the baby has not previously been spoiled he will be happy and contented in his little pen.

Household Helps.

If you would clean your grass wags before laying them try sponging with a weak salt and water solution. Bran water also is excellent.

Do you know that if a brick is used for an iron stand your irons will retain their heat just twice as long?

A piece of cloth dipped in spirits of wine and rubbed upon soiled leather will remove every spot on it.

Jewelry Note.

Silver rings with designs of peacocks, their tails studded with jewels, are among the most interesting of recent jewelry modes.

The Perfect Corn Flakes

New Post Toasties are not only inexpensive but they bear a new deliciousness, produced by a new process of cookery—the first to produce corn flakes with the self-developed true corn flavor.

So fine is this flavor that New Post Toasties are wondrous good eaten dry. Unlike common corn flakes, they do not require cream and sugar to make them palatable. Try some that way—you'll appreciate the point, though they're even better when served with cream or good milk.

These New Post Toasties don't mush down in cream, and they are not 'chaffy' in the package, like common flakes. They're new in form, new in flavor, and new in appearance. Note tiny bubbles on flake—an identifying feature.

Put up in wax-sealed packages. New Post Toasties retain their oven-crispness and flavor until served at your table.

Have your grocer deliver a package for tomorrow's breakfast.

GOVERNMENT IS TO BLAME

Several Reasons Given for Red River Overflowing.

Fargo, N. D., July 20.—The government has failed to keep its agreement with cities along the Red river by abandoning dredging operations, according to an appeal which will be addressed to the war department, insisting that operations be continued and future floods prevented. The Fargo Commercial club has data showing that ten years ago the government agreed to handle dredging work, so that excess water now brought from new drainage canals would be cared for. The recent midsummer flood took place because the canals now carry the water to the river within a few hours of a rainfall. It is said. The government abandoned all channel work on the stream about a year ago.

Taylor of the Lakeside Lumber Co. made a thrilling stop of the laundry wagon.

The great military display was something like the national guard—minus this, minus that, minus everything else. The Pekin Guards were still at Pekin, so far as Brainerd was concerned.

However, the horses, the elephant act, the polar bear act, the band music, the work of the acrobats, slack wire performers and others, the races, Wild West show were good. The menagerie was not very large. The show people were kind and courteous, not a bit of trouble was reported by police or sheriff, there were none of the hangers-on usual to some circuses.

The show pleased many. The only objection is that the advance advertising led people to expect too much.

BINGO.

Nelly Gray.

Almost every schoolboy of a dozen years or more ago knew somewhat of the rimes of Thomas Hood, especially the poem entitled "Faithless Nelly Gray," in which—

Ben Battle was a soldier bold
And used to war's alarms,
But a cannon ball took off his legs,
And he laid down his arms.

A correspondent of T. P.'s London Weekly calls attention to a stanza that is usually omitted in which Nelly puts her objection to the mutilated warrior in part after this fashion:

"Why, then," said she, "you've lost the feet
Of legs in war's alarms,
And now you cannot wear your shoes
Upon your feet of arms."

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Interesting Ways to Do Your Work Easily and Well.

Never blacken a gas stove. Instead, rub the outside frequently with a cloth dampened with kerosene which will remove the grease. About every four weeks wipe it with an oily cloth, and then rub briskly with a woolen one. The inside of the stove should be wiped with cottonseed oil every fortnight or so.

To keep parsley fresh for a week or so wash it thoroughly and place in a tightly covered fruit jar.

The old method of scalding tomatoes to peel them sometimes renders them soft. A better way is to scrape them carefully with the back of a knife, which loosens the skin and allows them to be peeled easily. Never use too much salt in cooking vegetables. It toughens the fibers, destroys the delicate flavors and helps to extract the valuable mineral contents.

Never cook potatoes of an uneven size together, as the small ones are sure to be overdone by the time the larger ones are cooked.

Most vegetables, excepting cabbage, cauliflower, kale, brussels sprouts and other members of the cabbage family, should be boiled in as little water as possible.

Boiled potatoes, to be light and flaky, should be served almost immediately after draining. Every housekeeper knows their soggy state if dinner is delayed. If a dry cloth is stretched tightly over the kettle holding the potatoes it will absorb the moisture and keep the potatoes in a palatable condition for at least half an hour.

Recipes always state that to prevent cream of tomato soup from curdling a pinch of soda should be added to the tomatoes before mixing with the milk or cream. If this precaution does not always prove efficacious try mixing the soda with a scant teaspoonful of corn-starch and add it to the cream before pouring into the tomato mixture.

For the Baby.

Get a store box about three feet square and eighteen inches deep. See that inside and edges are made very smooth. Make easily laundered pads for bottom from an army blanket or table felt.

Place a baby and his playthings inside. If he is inclined to throw them out fasten by strings or ribbons to edge of box so that he may haul them in again if he likes.

By holding to edge of box he will learn to walk and will be protected meantime from cold and drafts, to which a creeping baby on the floor is always exposed; also from fire, hot liquids and many things of which the little child who has the range of the house is always in danger.

If the baby has not previously been spoiled he will be happy and contented in his little pen.

Household Helps.

If you would clean your grass sags before laying them try sponging with a weak salt and water solution. Bran water also is excellent.

Do you know that if a brick is used for an iron stand your irons will retain their heat just twice as long?

A piece of cloth dipped in spirits of wine and rubbed upon soiled leather will remove every spot on it.

Jewelry Note.

Silver rings with designs of peacocks, their tails studded with jewels, are among the most interesting of recent jewelry modes.

The Perfect Corn Flakes

New Post Toasties are not only inexpensive but they bear a new deliciousness, produced by a new process of cookery—the first to produce corn flakes with the self-developed true corn flavor.

So fine is this flavor that New Post Toasties are wondrous good eaten dry. Unlike common corn flakes, they do not require cream and sugar to make them palatable. Try some that way—you'll appreciate the point, though they're even better when served with cream or good milk.

These New Post Toasties don't mush down in cream, and they are not 'chaffy' in the package, like common flakes. They're new in form, new in flavor, and new in appearance. Note tiny bubbles on flake—an identifying feature.

Put up in wax-sealed packages. New Post Toasties retain their oven-crispness and flavor until served at your table.

Have your grocer deliver a package for tomorrow's breakfast.

ABRAM ELKUS.

Named United States
Ambassador to Turkey.

Washington, July 19.—President Wilson has nominated Abram Elkus, New York, to be United States ambassador to Turkey. The nomination was decided upon several weeks ago, but sending it to the senate was delayed pending inquiry as to the acceptability of Elkus to the Turkish government.

PLAN TO IMPEACH BURNQUIST BEATEN

Hibbing, Minn., July 20.—Amid tumultuous scenes the Minnesota State Federation of Labor, at the closing session of its annual convention here, defeated a resolution recommending the impeachment of Governor J. A. Burnquist for his part in the suppression of the strike disorders on the Iron range.

The so called radicals fathered the resolution, which was staunchly opposed by the majority faction, headed by members of the executive committee.

The discussion was precipitated by a motion to override the unfavorable report of the resolutions committee and lasted a half hour.

E. G. Hall was re-elected president and George W. Lawson again chosen secretary treasurer.

A committee consisting of President Hall, Secretary Lawson and two other members of the executive committee will visit Governor Burnquist soon, it was announced, and give him a detailed account of the strike situation. Fairbault was given the 1917 convention.

Noted Authoress Dead.

New York, July 20.—Miss Amanda Minnie Douglas, writer, whose works have been popular for fifty years and who recently wrote "Helen Grant" series, died at her home in Newark, N. J., in her eighty-sixth year.

He Described the Banana.

The banana has only won wide favor in England during the past twenty years or so. It was not known, however, long before that, for E. L. Blanchard, the dramatist, records in his autobiography, "July 7, 1864—Stroll through Covent Garden market, tasting bananas for the first time, a vegetable sausage tasting like marrow flavored with pineapple."

WHAT WILL COME AT WAR'S END?

Government Does Not Know
How Industries Will Fare.

MANY CHANGES ARE COMING

Will Europe Continue to Purchase American Products, or Will Various Nations Attempt to Sell Goods Here? the Producers Ask—South American Trade Another Puzzle.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, July 20.—[Special.]—Just what has happened to create an impression that the war in Europe may be brought to an end in the near future no one can tell, but that impression prevails to such an extent that discussion has begun as to what will happen in the world of commerce when the conflict closes.

It is needless to say that many Americans are keenly alive to the fact that the end of the war will bring about many changes, and there must be some lightning shifting of business affairs in order to keep up the present booming times. That there will not be much for the "war babies" is well known save that which will be furnished this government as a part of its preparedness policy and the capital and energy in these lines must find another outlet.

Our People Do Not Know.

Business men may have an idea, but our government authorities do not know what will happen when the war ends. They do not know whether the European countries are going to need those things that the United States furnishes or whether Europe will send goods and try to get money. They do not know whether Europe will supply South America and interfere with the market we have been trying to establish on that continent or whether South America will want more of our products.

The Greater Question.

Then there is the greater question—the one that has caused the expenditure of $400,000,000 for military purposes—will the victor in the European conflict, when the war ends, attack the United States? It is a fact that the great expenditures which have been made were secured mainly through the threat of fierce attacks by the well trained soldiers and the big navies of the successful nations in the European war. That was the war scare of 1916. That was why so many additional taxes had to be voted and so many more soldiers, arms, munitions, ships, sailors and all that goes to make a big military establishment have been provided.

Want the Senate.

It has been no secret for a long time that the Republicans wanted the senate and wanted it badly. For three successive campaigns they have been losing senators. Now they want to try to regain enough to give them a majority. They want nine of the possible thirteen which are considered doubtful seats held by Democrats.

The Republicans enjoyed running the senate. They liked the duty even better than the Democrats. They have never felt that the senate has been properly run since they were compelled to surrender authority. That is why they appointed a committee, with Senator Weeks at the head, to see if nine of the doubtful thirteen can be secured. Meanwhile, however, they have got to hold what they have at present.

The Steady Losses.

When the divisions first showed in the Republican party during the Taft administration the Republicans had a large majority in the senate. In 1910 they lost nine seats, in 1912 they lost seven seats, and in 1914 they lost four seats, a total of twenty, which accounts for the present Democratic majority. The Republicans say there was no necessity whatever for the loss of four seats in 1914, and instead they should have made gains if there had been proper campaign management. That is why a separate committee will this year look after the senatorial campaigns.

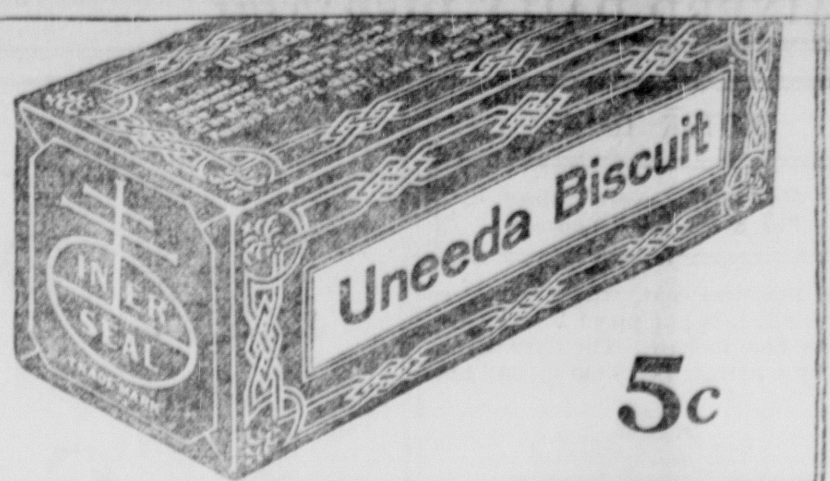

Enjoying Himself.

Uncle Joe Cannon, to use an expression from his favorite Washburn, seems to be "just sloshin' around," hitting a head whenever he sees it. Not long ago he took a little shot at Champ Clark, calling to mind that under Champ's leadership the Democrats refused to vote for the war revenue for the Spanish war. He also quoted Champ as saying that Grover Cleveland belonged in the class with Judas Iscariot and Benedict Arnold. Likewise he said something to the effect that the Democrats were opposed to the Spanish war and that "we (the Republicans) had to take you by the scruff of the neck and drag you into it."

Uncle Joe is doing this because he feels like it, and enjoys the idea of doing as he pleases.

Goodby Northwest?

According to J. Bruce Kremer, Democratic national committeeman from Montana, it is all off so far as the northwest is concerned. Montana, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, North Dakota and Wyoming are surely Democratic and might as well be placed in the column. Not only are they going for Wilson, but Democratic senators are to be elected. There will be many such claims by both parties before the campaign ends.

WHEN lunch or supper seems a long time off and you're hungry, eat Uneeda Biscuit.

Just enough to satisfy—but keep you going till meal time—but so light and crisp and flaky that they won't spoil your appetite.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

THE HIGH COST OF PRODUCING NEWSPAPERS

SAME CONDITIONS EXIST IN BRAINERD

(Reprinted from the Virginia Daily Enterprise of May 18, 1916)

But few advertisers and readers of Virginia's two daily newspapers realize the increased cost of production under which these papers, in common with others all over the country, are laboring.

The price of print paper, ink, linotype metal and the other supplies which go to the make-up of a daily paper, have more than doubled in the past three months, and in the case of white paper, is steadily advancing from week to week.

In addition to this the Typographical union, under which the mechanical departments of both papers are operated, recently demanded and secured substantial raises in wages for the printers.

Any merchant who has recently paid bills for wrapping and other papers will realize the truth and seriousness of the above situation.

The price paid by a subscriber hardly covers the cost of the white paper upon which the news is printed and the weekly payrolls and other operating expenses must be met by collections from advertising.

In Virginia the advertising rates have always been lower than those charged in other towns; too low in fact for a fair profit under the old conditions. With the increased costs it is impossible for either paper to meet expenses, let alone make a profit as other Virginia concerns expect to do.

Facing the above situation, The Daily Virginian and The Daily Enterprise have found it necessary to raise their advertising rates to the new schedule given below:

Contract rate for daily advertising	20c per inch
Open space rate, regular advertisers	25c per inch
Open space rate, non-regular advertisers	35c per inch

Virginia is big enough and her merchants and business men are prosperous enough to properly support her two daily newspapers, which are a credit to the city and which are called upon to lead the way in almost every movement of benefit to the city.

Realizing its absolute necessity, we believe that our advertisers will accept the new rate and pay the bills at least as cheerfully and promptly as they do with the out-of-town concerns who have raised prices on practically everything the merchant buys.

HOLD UP YOUR HEAD.

It Will Stimulate You Mentally as Well as Physically.

In a letter to Robert Grimshaw of the New York university William Muldoon gives advice that it would be well for every man and woman, boy and girl in America to take to heart. He says:

"I was taught in early manhood not to throw my shoulders back, stick my chest out, draw my stomach in or hold my chin down like a goat preparing to butt, but to always try and touch some imaginary thing with the crown of my head. If one tries to do that—first understand how to try and then tries—he doesn't have to pay any attention to the rest of his physical being. That effort to touch something above him not with his forehead, but with the crown of his head, will keep every particle of his body in the position that nature intended it should be.

And as a boy I was advised to frequently back up against the wall and make the back of my head, my shoulders, hips, heels all press against the wall at the same time, and in that way get an idea of what was straight, or, in other words, how crooked I was becoming by drooping."

Both to young and old Mr. Muldoon's "hold your head up" suggestion is inspiring and mentally is immediate. When the head goes higher the impulse is to deeper breathing. A man finds more elasticity in his limbs. He steps out with more ease. There is more spring to his gait. He isn't a lumbering, shambling creature, but a man alive. With the elevation of the crown of the head there seems to come clearer thinking, a more buoyant feeling and a brighter outlook.—Commerce and Finance.

Roasting Coffee.

A good chunk of money can be saved in a year by roasting your own coffee, and it is not so hard at that. All that is needed is a good big heavy skillet. Before roasting a pound of green coffee put in a chunk of butter the size of an almond mixed with a teaspoonful of sugar. Roast on the stove or flame, steadily shaking and stirring in the old fashioned double shuffle way until all is a uniform rich brown. Shake fast when coffee "pops" or smokes. Please don't burn. The butter and sugar surely help the flavor, aroma and bouquet of the delicious drink. But the butter must be good and not too much used at one time. The smaller the quantity to do the job the better.—New York Press.

Colors In Coral.

Genuine coral may be red, pink, white, blue, yellow, green or black, the last being the rarest and most highly prized. The next valuable is the red coral, which is susceptible of high polish and is most in use for jewelry, being the coral of commerce.

Corals are roughly classed under two heads, the horny corals and the lime or stone corals. To the former belong the red and black forms and the white to the latter. Red coral is chiefly found in the Mediterranean. The corals found on the Atlantic coast of Florida are the lime or stone corals, which are the reef building forms.

ABRAM ELKUS.

Named United States Ambassador to Turkey.

Washington, July 19.—President Wilson has nominated Abram Elkus, New York, to be United States ambassador to Turkey. The nomination was decided upon several weeks ago, but sending it to the senate was delayed pending inquiry as to the acceptability of Elkus to the Turkish government.

PLAN TO IMPEACH
BURNQUIST BEATEN

Hibbing, Minn., July 20.—Amid tumultuous scenes the Minnesota State Federation of Labor, at the closing session of its annual convention here, defeated a resolution recommending the impeachment of Governor J. A. A. Burnquist for his part in the suppression of the strike disorders on the Iron range.

The so called radicals fathered the resolution, which was staunchly opposed by the majority faction, headed by members of the executive committee.

The discussion was precipitated by a motion to override the unfavorable report of the resolutions committee and lasted a half hour.

E. G. Hall was re-elected president and George W. Lawson again chosen secretary treasurer.

A committee consisting of President Hall, Secretary Lawson and two other members of the executive committee will visit Governor Burnquist soon, it was announced, and give him a detailed account of the strike situation. Faribault was given the 1917 convention.

Noted Authoress Died.

New York, July 20.—Miss Amanda Minnie Douglas, writer, whose works have been popular for fifty years and who recently wrote "Helen Grant" series, died at her home in Newark, N. J., in her eighty-sixth year.

He Described the Banana.

The banana has only won wide favor in England during the past twenty years or so. It was not unknown, however, long before that, for E. L. Blanchard, the dramatist, records in his autobiography, "July 7, 1864—Strut through Covent Garden market, tasting bananas for the first time, a vegetable sausage tasting like marrow flavored with pineapple."

WHAT WILL COME
AT WAR'S END?

Government Does Not Know
How Industries Will Fare.

MANY CHANGES ARE COMING

Will Europe Continue to Purchase American Products, or Will Various Nations Attempt to Sell Goods Here? the Producers Ask—South American Trade Another Puzzle.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, July 20.—[Special].—Just what has happened to create an impression that the war in Europe may be brought to an end in the near future no one can tell, but that impression prevails to such an extent that discussion has begun as to what will happen in the world of commerce when the conflict closes.

It is needless to say that many Americans are keenly alive to the fact that the end of the war will bring about many changes, and there must be some lightning shifting of business affairs in order to keep up the present booming times. That there will not be much for the "war babies" is well known save that which will be furnished this government as a part of its preparedness policy and the capital and energy in these lines must find another outlet.

Our People Do Not Know.

Business men may have an idea, but our government authorities do not know what will happen when the war ends. They do not know whether the European countries are going to need those things that the United States furnishes or whether Europe will send goods and try to get money. They do not know whether Europe will supply South America and interfere with the market we have been trying to establish on that continent or whether South America will want more of our products.

The Greater Question.

Then there is the greater question—the one that has caused the expenditure of $400,000,000 for military purposes—will the victor in the European conflict, when the war ends, attack the United States? It is a fact that the great expenditures which have been made were secured mainly through the threat of fierce attacks by the well trained soldiers and the big navies of the successful nations in the European war. That was the war scare of 1914. That was why so many additional taxes had to be voted and so many more soldiers, arms, munitions, ships, sailors and all that goes to make a big military establishment have been provided.

Want the Senate.

It has been no secret for a long time that the Republicans wanted the senate and wanted it badly. For three successive campaigns they have been losing senators. Now they want to try to regain enough to give them a majority. They want nine of the possible thirteen which are considered doubtful seats held by Democrats.

The Republicans enjoyed running the senate. They liked the duty even better than the Democrats. They have never felt that the senate has been properly run since they were compelled to surrender authority. That is why they appointed a committee, with Senator Weeks at the head, to see if nine of the doubtful thirteen can be secured. Meanwhile, however, they have got to hold what they have at present.

The Steady Losses.

When the divisions first showed in the Republican party during the Taft administration the Republicans had a large majority in the senate. In 1910 they lost nine seats, in 1912 they lost seven seats, and in 1914 they lost four seats, a total of twenty, which accounts for the present Democratic majority. The Republicans say there was no necessity whatever for the loss of four seats in 1914, and instead they should have made gains if there had been proper campaign management. That is why a separate committee will this year look after the senatorial campaigns.

Enjoying Himself.

Uncle Joe Cannon, to use an expression from his favorite Wabash, seems to be "just sloshing around," hitting a head whenever he sees it. Not long ago he took a little shot at Champ Clark, calling to mind that under Clark's leadership the Democrats refused to vote for the war revenue for the Spanish war. He also quoted Champ as saying that Grover Cleveland belonged in the class with Judas Iscariot and Benedict Arnold. Likewise he said something to the effect that the Democrats were opposed to the Spanish war and that "we the Republicans" had to take you by the scruff of the neck and drag you into it.

Uncle Joe is doing this because he feels like it, and enjoys the idea of doing as he pleases.

Goodby Northwest?

According to J. Bruce Kremer, Democratic national committeeman from Montana, it is all off so far as the northwest is concerned. Montana, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, North Dakota and Wyoming are, surely Democratic and might as well be placed in the column. Not only are they going for Wilson, but Democratic senators are to be elected. There will be many such claims by both parties before the campaign ends.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

THE HIGH COST OF PRODUCING NEWSPAPERS

SAME CONDITIONS EXIST IN BRAINERD

(Reprinted from the Virginia Daily Enterprise of May 18, 1916)

But few advertisers and readers of Virginia's two daily newspapers realize the increased cost of production under which these papers, in common with others all over the country, are laboring.

The price of print paper, ink, linotype metal and the other supplies which go to the make-up of a daily paper, have more than doubled in the past three months, and in the case of white paper, is steadily advancing from week to week.

In addition to this the Typographical union, under which the mechanical departments of both papers are operated, recently demanded and secured substantial raises in wages for the printers.

Any merchant who has recently paid bills for wrapping and other papers will realize the truth and seriousness of the above situation.

The price paid by a subscriber hardly covers the cost of the white paper upon which the news is printed and the weekly payrolls and other operating expenses must be met by collections from advertising.

In Virginia the advertising rates have always been lower than those charged in other towns; too low in fact for a fair profit under the old conditions. With the increased costs it is impossible for either paper to meet expenses, let alone make a profit as other Virginia concerns expect to do.

Facing the above situation, The Daily Virginian and The Daily Enterprise have found it necessary to raise their advertising rates to the new schedule given below:

Contract rate for daily advertising	20c per inch
Open space rate, regular advertisers	25c per inch
Open space rate, non-regular advertisers	35c per inch

Virginia is big enough and her merchants and business men are prosperous enough to properly support her two daily newspapers, which are a credit to the city and which are called upon to lead the way in almost every movement of benefit to the city.

Realizing its absolute necessity, we believe that our advertisers will accept the new rate and pay the bills at least as cheerfully and promptly as they do with the out-of-town concerns who have raised prices on practically everything the merchant buys.

HOLD UP YOUR HEAD.

It Will Stimulate You Mentally as Well as Physically.

In a letter to Robert Grimshaw of the New York university William Muldoon gives advice that it would be well for every man and woman, boy and girl in America to take to heart. He says:

"I was taught in early manhood not to throw my shoulders back, stick my chest out, draw my stomach in or hold my chin down like a goat preparing to butt, but to always try and touch some imaginary thing with the crown of my head. If one tries to do that—first understands how to try and then tries—he doesn't have to pay any attention to the rest of his physical being. That effort to touch something above him not with his forehead, but with the crown of his head, will keep every particle of his body in the position that nature intended it should be.

And as a boy I was advised to frequently back up against the wall and make the back of my head, my shoulders, hips, heels all press against the wall at the same time, and in that way get an idea of what was straight, or, in other words, how crooked I was becoming by drooping."

Both to young and old Mr. Muldoon's "hold your head up" suggestion is inspiring. Try it. The effect physically and mentally is immediate. When the head goes higher the impulse is to deeper breathing. A man finds more elasticity in his limbs. He steps out with more ease. There is more spring to his gait. He isn't a lumbering, shambling creature, but a man alive. With the elevation of the crown of the head there seems to come clearer thinking, a more buoyant feeling and a brighter outlook.—Commerce and Finance.

Roasting Corn.

A good chunk of money can be saved in a year by roasting your own coffee, and it is not so hard at that. All that is needed is a good big heavy skillet. Before roasting a pound of green coffee put in a chunk of butter the size of an almond mixed with a teaspoonful of sugar. Roast on the stove or flame, steadily shaking and stirring in the old fashioned double shuffle way until all is a uniform rich brown. Shake fast when coffee "pops" or smokes. Please don't burn. The butter and sugar surely help the flavor, aroma and bouquet of the delicious drink. But the butter must be good and not too much used at one time. The smaller the quantity to do the job right the better.—New York Press.

Colors In Coral.

Genuine coral may be red, pink, white, blue, yellow, green or black, the last being the rarest and most highly prized. The next valuable is the red coral, which is susceptible of high polish and is most in use for jewelry, being the coral of commerce.

Corals are roughly classed under two heads, the horny corals and the lime or stone corals. To the former belong the red and black forms and the white to the latter. Red coral is chiefly found in the Mediterranean. The corals found on the Atlantic coast of Florida are the lime or stone corals, which are the reef building forms.

PIONEER LIFE INS. CO. SPECIAL

Party of 100 Agents and Wives Headed by Vice President Hughes and Actuary Dern

HAVE DINNER AT RANSFORD

Visit Chamber of Commerce. Three Week's Lake Trip Compliment of the Company

Pioneer Life Insurance company agents and their wives and friends numbering 100, arrived in Brainerd at noon in a special train from Fargo, headquarters of the company, on their way to Duluth and a lake trip which will consume three weeks of a happy outing, the trip celebrating the most prosperous year in the history of the association.

The party is headed by T. D. Hughes, second vice president and manager of agencies, and A. L. Dern, actuary. Accompanying the delegation was L. P. Gellerman, of St. Paul; district passenger agent of the Northern Pacific railway. The equipment furnished by the railway included three first class coaches, baggage car and observation car. Stop was made at Perham to pick up agents there including Lewis Hart, state agent for Minnesota. From Duluth out on the Huronic they will be accompanied by T. A. Morken, of St. Paul, traveling passenger agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway.

The Huronic will steam down the St. Lawrence, on to Montreal and Quebec, a visit also being made to the Thousand Isles.

The Pioneer Life Insurance Co. now has assets of over $1,000,000. It does business in North and South Dakota, Minnesota, Montana and Idaho, said Mr. Hughes, and the insurance in force is over $17,000,000. In Brainerd Mr. Hughes was delighted to meet one of their stockholders, Contractor Alex Nelson of Perham, who built the Ransford hotel and who is now engaged in remodeling the First National bank building.

Dinner was served at the Ransford hotel and after the meal the members were taken to the Chamber of Commerce by Henry I. Cohen, president of the association. Other courtesies were shown them and their stay in Brainerd was too short to satisfy Brainerd people who wanted to show them the whole town. The Ransford menu follows:

Dill Pickles Iced Radishes
Baked Fillet of Walleyed Pike Maitre D Hotel
Saratoga Chips
Braised Brisket of Veal with Vegetables

The "Pioneer" quartet composed of Mr. Hughes, Mr. Hart, Mr. Morken and Dan O'Neill sang "The Pioneer Life" to the tune of "Tipperary," the words being composed by L. R. Bliss of McKenzie, N. D.

There is a grand old company. The name is Pioneer Life. And if you wish to be a man And shield your babe and wife, Just let the agent in your town Write you a policy. And be in line with all the rest Who do the future see.

CHORUS
It's the Pioneer, the Pioneer Life boys That will guard you and yours; It's the Pioneer of North Dakota That will all your lives insure. Good-bye to other lines men, Wipe them off your slate. It's the Pioneer of North Dakota The pride of our state.

Some day another lad may come When you have passed away And ask your widow for her hand So with her mon could play The Pioneer has this one good point The bad ones, there are none— A check comes to her every month Not just one great big one.

We are a jolly bunch of men Who travel round about, Tho some of us are rather thin And others rounded out. We all are working for the same The grand old Pioneer Life Which heads the list of companies That entered in the strife.

Representing the Security State bank of Flasher, N. D., was F. J. Simonitch accompanied by his wife. Mrs. Simonitch was formerly Miss Tyler of this city.

The special pulled out at 1:55 P. M., shortly after the quartet rendered a farewell selection for Brainerd.

HEARING FRIDAY

Preliminary Examination of A. Mampel to be held at Walker About 5 P. M. Friday

The preliminary hearing of A. Mampel, caretaker of Gull lake dam, charged with shooting Mike Setula, will be held Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock at Walker and the three Brainerd members of the fishing party, who saw the altercation at the dam Sunday morning, have been summoned to testify.

J. S. Scribner is counsel for Mampel, Col. Wade of St. Paul of the federal department, having wired the Walker attorney to look after the interests of Mr. Mampel.

Mike Setula is at St. Joseph's hospital, rapidly regaining strength and able to sit up.

LIABLE TO PAY $50 FINE DAILY

Fire Marshal R. W. Hagardine Gave City Notice in Person to Remove Old Hose House

CONDEMNED BY DEPARTMENT

Its Removal Will Open up Fifth Street Which Old Building Now Entirely Blocks Up

R. W. Hagardine, state fire marshal, was in the city to see what had been done to remove the old hose house reposing at the head of North Fifth street near the railway tracks. He had condemned the structure and the time for removal expired July 15.

Mr. Hagardine conferred with members of the council and with Dr. R. A. Belse, the mayor, and the authorities were informed that the city was liable to a fine of $50 a day for every day after July 15 that the condemned structure remained.

Committees of the council and others got busy and promised Mr. Hagardine that summary action would be taken to remove the building if it taken down at once. The penalty will not attach, as Mr. Hagardine, aware of the city's finances and its general compliance with the laws and orders of the state, showed some leniency.

The removal of the hose house will act as another improvement, opening Fifth street across the tracks and thus doing away with much of the congestion at the Sixth street railway crossing where freight trains frequently stand or do their switching within five minutes of the leaving time of passenger trains and make it a nervous wait for passengers blocked from getting to the depot.

HAS FINE SUMMER HOME

C. M. Hough Uses Ford and Launch to Transport Guests—Has Place at Squaw Point

C. M. Hough has bought a Ford car and now negotiates the road between Brainerd and Gull lake in rapid order. Mr. Hough has a summer resort on the west side of Gull lake and he has recently bought a lot on Squaw Point where he has erected a garage and built a boat landing.

With his fine launch he comes to Squaw Point and then with his Ford he makes Brainerd where he does his trading. He reports a good business this season and all who have partaken of the Hough hospitality are loud in their praise of the management. It's a good place to go.

At "Rest Dell"

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Pearce have returned from a visit in Merrifield where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. King at their summer cottage, "Rest Dell." So pleased were Mr. and Mrs. Pearce with the beauties of lake, field and shore, that they have decided to join the summer colony near Mr. King's charming home and build a cottage too.

Should Sloan's Liniment Go Along?

Of course it should! For after a strenuous day when your muscles have been exercised to the limit an application of Sloan's Liniment will take the soreness and stiffness away and get you in fine shape for the morrow. You should also use it for a sudden attack of toothache, stiff neck, backache, stings, bites and the many accidents that are incidental to a vacation. "We would as soon leave our baggage as go on a vacation or camp out without Sloan's Liniment." Writes one vacationist: "We use it for everything from cramps to toothache." Put a bottle in your bag, be prepared and have no regrets. At all druggists. tfs

WAS UNDER WATER SEVEN MINUTES

Vernie Betz, of Wheeler Brothers Show, Doubled Up and Blue With Cramps, Nearly Drowned

SAVED BY 'BOUNDING GEORGE'

Company Physician Dr. Troutman and Dr. R. A. Belse Aid in Resuscitation of Betz

Vernie Betz of the Wheeler Bros. shows, bathing in the Mississippi near the big tent Wednesday evening, was taken with a cramp and after yelling for help sank under the piers of the railway bridge. The man, who is an assistant of Fred Cone, who has the eleven polar bear act, was under water full seven minutes.

His cries were heard and "Bounding George," or George Lossen, wearing his suit ready for the big show, dived in and fished out Betz. The latter was doubled up and blue from cramp.

On shore James Dougherty, the "Blackie" the horse doctor and other notables rolled him over a barrel and a log. Dr. Troutman, the circus physician helped restore Betz and was also assisted by Dr. R. A. Belse, mayor of Brainerd, who had been at the circus.

People lined the banks while the rescue work was under way and while resuscitation was carried on. At the point where Betz sank 200 feet from shore, the river is deep and swift and full of dead heads.

HE EATS WITH THE CIRCUS

Dispatch Reporter Guest of Wheeler Brothers Show, Invited to Dine by Dr. H. F. Troutman

Wheeler Brothers show toyed with fate Wednesday when they invited the Dispatch reporter to dine with them in the tent. It had been a busy day for the reporter with a small lunch at noon and the news gatherer eagerly accepted the invitation of Dr. H. F. Troutman to eat with the circus folks.

Before the meal had proceeded very far, H. L. Kelly, the steward, saw that the fourth estate was in a fair way to eat its way through the whole jill of fare and he said with conviction: "Believe me, it's a good thing this show isn't loaded up with newspaper men who have an appetite like you."

Dr. Troutman looks after all the ailments of the circus family, but judging by the way everyone ate supper at 4 o'clock, want of appetite did not affect anybody.

"About the only trouble the performers have," said the doctor, "is when they fall and break a rib or two. Otherwise circus people are the healthiest lot of mortals you ever saw."

The cook tent was located to the west of the main top near the flour mill side track. It was shortly after 4 o'clock that the reporter and Dr. Troutman dined. At that early hour many of the performers were enjoying their evening meal.

There was no distinction as all were given the same service. Being in the open air continually gave every one an appetite of the North Dakota harvest hand order. It was a first class meal in every respect. There was roast pork two inches thick, done to a turn, snowy potatoes, cabbage, onions, bread and butter, iced tea, coffee or milk, preserves, bananas and cream.

"We bought in Brainerd today some of the finest milk and cream we secured on our entire route," said Mr. Wheeler. "You certainly have some of the best dairies of the state in Brainerd."

For two hours at each meal the dining tent is kept open. And "three squares" a day are served, of the same substantial kind.

Kelly, the steward, has been with shows for years since he was coffee boy with Adam Forepaugh. Fourteen years ago he bought his first supplies in Brainerd from Con O'Brien. Kelly is an Elk and he belongs to the lodge at Newton, Iowa, and when he finishes his show career, he is going to run a boarding house at Newton for circus people exclusively, and has promised to keep no books.

Shrinking Billiard Balls.

As ivory dries it shrinks, and experience has taught the ivory billiard ball turner that a tusk shrinks more in width than in length. To meet this peculiarity the best balls are made from tusks little thicker than the ball. The tusks of cow elephants are best for billiard balls. They are not so curved as bull tusks, and the fine nerve passage is not so plainly seen. The billiard ball is turned in the rough and kept in a warm room for two years. It is then, after shrinking, turned again to true.

MAHLUM LUMBER CO. ADDS NEW YARDS

Murray & Paine to Handle the New Nisswa Yard, T. Sjordahl in Charge at Underwood

COMPANY NOW HAS TEN YARDS

Improvements Made Locally, Brainerd Yard a Model of Neatness, Planing Mill Big Business

The Mahlum Lumber Co. is branching out and growing, now having ten yards. These include the home yards with their large stocks of lumber, planing mill, etc., the yards at Pine River, Crosby, Deerwood, Bagley, Fosston, Gully, Henning and lately two new yards, the Nisswa yard in charge of Murray & Paine, the Underwood yard in charge of Theodore Sjordahl.

The planing mill in Brainerd is largely patronized by farmers and they find it most convenient, as it enables them to get out much of their own lumber and to have the finishing done at small cost.

The local yard carries a large stock of white pine, fir, oak, cypress and other woods, finishing lumber, millwork of all kinds, screens, etc. Something rare in the lumber line is their stock of 28 inch pine boards.

A dust proof section has been built to contain yellow pine and hardwood moulding. The utmost care is taken to keep lumber in proper shape. Trackage is very convenient.

The Brainerd yards handle much territory and a glance at their order books shows the building record of Brainerd as increasing every day. The yards supplied the lumber at Lum park, the residence of J. P. CARNIVAL WEEK STARTS MONDAY

C. A. Wortham Guarantees Decency of all Shows—Train Arrives Sunday Evening

THE STAGE IS ALL SET IN CITY

Thirty Double Length Cars Needed to Carry the Big Show Company

The stage is set and Brainerd is waiting the coming of the C. A. Wortham shows, which will exhibit in Brainerd under the auspices of the park board, for the entire week starting next Monday evening. The big show train, 30 double length cars, with its burden of gorgeous wagons, mysterious trappings and an array of "show folks," will arrive in Brainerd Sunday evening. Monday morning the wonderful "tented metropolis of diversion" will begin to assume shape and by eventide every show and riding device will be ready for operation. Myriad electric lights will make the "Wortham Glad Way" a dazzling thoroughfare of bewildering brightness. There will be inspiring music, singing and dancing girls, slight of hand performers, strange looking folks doing strange things for the amusement of the multitude, before the shows start.

There is no more pleasing sight than a big carnival organization, with proper shows, properly presented; with the flare, kaleidoscope of color, bright lights and alluring sights. A trip through the show grounds generally makes a booster for an organization of the proper kind and C. A. Wortham has sent his guarantee to Brainerd that each and every show with his aggregation will be of the most proper calibre. Mr. Wortham declares that there is not an attraction, not a corner of the big show grounds, where unescorted women and children cannot visit with every sense of propriety and security. Brainerd will welcome and liberally patronize an institution of that kind.

Every form of amusement from the simple fun rides on the merry-go-round and ferris wheel to acts that set the blood racing through the veins, at the reckless stunts of some of the performers, are presented. The entire gamut of diversion is run and there is some show that is bound to appeal to each member of the family. There are several attractions of a character never before presented with a carnival company.

There are electrical and mechanical shows that for ingenuity are astounding and must be seen to be appreciated. The animal circus has everything from a monkey on roller skates and riding bicycle, to the thrilling battle between man and black maned, forest bred, African lions, and there are trained birds, ponies, dogs, etc.

"The Follies of Life" present dare devil men and women riders who do stunts that make the hair raise and stay "raised"; there is a wealth of magnificence about "My Lord's Fan" that amazes; aroma of the far east permeates every nook and corner of Arabia Nights; the Panama canal instructs and Over and Under the Sea causes a thrill of patriotism to grip spectators; genius of the inventor is seen in the Model City and the Athletic show is a demonstration of the manly art and physical culture by both men and women; the world's strangest people are gathered under the banner of Krall's Wonderful Pike's Peak is "some show"; Toyland takes the traveler back to childhood days and excites the laughter that only a healthy child can produce; Dave Morris, the world's greatest comedian, rides the cow that "jumped over the moon" right into the "House that Jack Built," with Lady May and her enormous family. For a brand new, never before in this section of the country there is the Whip, a riding device that can't op-

A ROMANCE OF BAGDAD.

Peculiar Story of Nazim Pasha and an Armenian Beauty.

A remarkable tale of Nazim Pasha, the commander in chief of the Turkish armies against Bulgaria in the Balkan war, is told by Sir William Wilcocks, K. C. M. G., in an article in Blackwood's Magazine.

"After Nazim Pasha became wali of Bagdad there lived in one of the best houses in the place an Armenian girl of eighteen, who was very pretty, very wealthy and an orphan. All the young Armenians in the Turkish empire were eager suitors for her hand, but she would have none of them. The wali invited her to his palace and told her that in her unprotected condition she might get into trouble, but that if she were to marry a countryman of hers in his household she would have both a sterling husband and his own protection. She accepted, but on reaching her home she found the wali word that she preferred remaining single.

"You shall remain single for life!" said the wali, and put a cordon of soldiers round her house, which prevented her from leaving it.

"She escaped to the French convent one day, dressed as a French nun, and the cordon of soldiers moved to her new residence. After some delay she escaped as a French monk, for Basra on Lynch's boat and sailed for Basra under the British flag. Bouts full of soldiers surrounded the steamer at Basra, but the girl ran across the deck, jumped into the Russian consul's boat and took refuge under the Russian flag. The consul saw her safely on to the British India steamer, and she descended at Bushire, in Persia.

"Not many months afterward Nazim Pasha himself was deposed and ordered to return to Constantinople. He returned there finally and was, as we all know, murdered by the Young Turks."

Warmth Not Wanted.

"This would be a pleasant world if people put more warmth—genuine warmth—in their letters," said the man of sentiment.

"I don't agree with you," replied his worried friend, "there was a warmth about some of the business letters I got this morning that I didn't at all like."

Snobbery.

Snobbery is the counterfeit coin in the bank of society.

Snobbery is the veil that tries to cover a multitude of sins—"veil" because it can be seen through and "tries" because it usually fails.

Snobbery is the hole in the doughnut; all that is good is outside of it.

Snobbery is disease; it renders impure an originally pure product by implanting in it the germ called "a swell-head."

Snobbery is expensive; it is excess baggage.

Snobbery is what chloroform is to the surgeon; it paralyzes the patient, but is exceedingly treacherous.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Musk Deer.

Musk is obtained from a sort of gland or pouch of the male musk deer, and it is secreted only during certain seasons of the year. The musk deer is a small animal, seldom more than three feet long and twenty-two inches in height. It is becoming more and more scarce every year and at the present rate will eventually become extinct.

PIONEER LIFE INS. CO. SPECIAL

Party of 100 Agents and Wives Headed by Vice President Hughes and Actuary Dern

HAVE DINNER AT RANSFORD

Visit Chamber of Commerce, Three Week's Lake Trip Compliment of the Company

Pioneer Life Insurance company agents and their wives and friends numbering 100, arrived in Brainerd at noon in a special train from Fargo, headquarters of the company, on their way to Duluth and a lake trip which will consume three weeks of a happy outing, the trip celebrating the most prosperous year in the history of the association.

The party is headed by T. D. Hughes, second vice president and manager of agencies, and A. L. Dern, actuary. Accompanying the delegation was L. P. Gellerman, of St. Paul; district passenger agent of the Northern Pacific railway. The equipment furnished by the railway included three first class coaches, baggage car and observation car. A stop was made at Perham to pick up agents there including Lewis Hart, state agent for Minnesota. From Duluth out on the Huronic they will be accompanied by T. A. Morken, of St. Paul, traveling passenger agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway.

The Huronic will steam down the St. Lawrence, on to Montreal and Quebec, a visit also being made to the Thousand Isles.

The Pioneer Life Insurance Co. now has assets of over $1,000,000. It does business in North and South Dakota, Minnesota, Montana and Idaho, said Mr. Hughes, and the insurance in force is over $17,000,000. In Brainerd Mr. Hughes was delighted to meet one of their stockholders, Contractor Alex Nelson of Perham, who built the Ransford hotel and who is now engaged in remodeling the First National bank building.

Dinner was served at the Ransford hotel and after the meal the members were taken to the Chamber of Commerce by Henry I. Cohen, president of the association. Other courtesies were shown them and their stay in Brainerd was too short to satisfy Brainerd people who wanted to show them the whole town. The Ransford menu follows:

Soup Consomme A. B. C.
Dill Pickles Iced Radishes
Baked Filet of Walleyed Pike Maitre D Hotel
Saratoga Chips
Braised Brisket of Veal with Vegetables

The "Pioneer" quartet composed of Mr. Hughes, Mr. Hart, Mr. Morken and Dan O'Neill sang "The Pioneer Life" to the tune of "Tipperrary," the words being composed by L. R. Bliss of McKenzie, N. D.

There is a grand old company, The name is Pioneer Life. And if you wish to be a man And shield your babe and wife, Just let the agent in your town Write you a policy, And be in line with all the rest Who do the future see.

CHORUS
It's the Pioneer, the Pioneer Life boys That will guard you and yours; It's the Pioneer of North Dakota That will all your lives insure. Good-bye to other lines men, Wipe them off your slate, It's the Pioneer of North Dakota The pride of our state.

Some day another lad may come When you have passed away And ask your widow for her hand So with her man could play The Pioneer has this one good point The bad ones, there are none—A check comes to her every month Not just one great big one.

We are a jolly bunch of men Who travel round about, Tho some of us are rather thin And others rounded out. We all are working for the same The grand old Pioneer Life Which heads the list of companies That entered in the strife.

Representing the Security State bank of Flasher, N. D., was F. J. Simonitsch accompanied by his wife. Mrs. Simonitsch was formerly Miss Tyler of this city.

The special pulled out at 1:55 P. M., shortly after the quartet rendered a farewell selection for Brainerd.

The preliminary hearing of A. Mampel, caretaker of Gull lake dam, charged with shooting Mike Setula, will be held Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock at Walker and the three Brainerd members of the fishing party, who saw the altercation at the dam Sunday morning, have been summoned to testify.

J. S. Scribner is counsel for Mampel, Col. Wade of St. Paul of the federal department, having wired the Walker attorney to look after the interests of Mr. Mampel.

Mike Setula is at St. Joseph's hospital, rapidly regaining strength and able to sit up.

LIABLE TO PAY $50 FINE DAILY

Fire Marshal R. W. Hagardine Gave City Notice in Person to Remove Old Hose House

CONDEMNED BY DEPARTMENT

Its Removal Will Open up Fifth Street Which Old Building Now Entirely Blocks Up

R. W. Hagardine, state fire marshal, was in the city to see what had been done to remove the old hose house replying at the head of North Fifth street near the railway tracks. He had condemned the structure and the time for removal expired July 15.

Mr. Hagardine conferred with members of the council and with Dr. R. A. Belse, the mayor, and the authorities were informed that the city was liable to a fine of $50 a day for every day after July 15 that the condemned structure remained.

Committees of the council and others got busy and promised Mr. Hagardine that summary action would be taken to remove the building and if taken down at once the penalty will not attach, as Mr. Hagardine, aware of the city's finances and its general compliance with the laws and orders of the state, showed some leniency.

The removal of the hose house will act as another improvement, opening Fifth street across the tracks and thus doing away with much of the congestion at the Sixth street railway crossing where freight trains frequently stand or do their switching within five minutes of the leaving time of passenger trains and make it a nervous wait for passengers blocked from setting to the depot.

HAS FINE SUMMER HOME

C. M. Hough Uses Ford and Launch to Transport Guests—Has Place at Squaw Point

C. M. Hough has bought a Ford car and now negotiates the road between Brainerd and Gull lake in rapid order. Mr. Hough has a summer resort on the west side of Gull lake and he has recently bought a lot on Squaw Point where he has erected a garage and built a boat landing.

With his fine launch he comes to Squaw Point and then with his Ford he makes Brainerd where he does his trading. He reports a good business this season and all who have partaken of the Hough hospitality are loud in their praise of the management. It's a good place to go.

At "Rest Dell"

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Pearce have returned from a visit in Merrifield where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. King at their summer cottage, "Rest Dell." So pleased were Mr. and Mrs. Pearce with the beauties of lake, field and shore, that they have decided to join the summer colony near Mr. King's charming home and build a cottage too.

Should Sloan's Liniment Go Along?

Of course it should! For after a strenuous day when your muscles have been exercised to the limit an application of Sloan's Liniment will take the soreness and stiffness away and get you in fine shape for the morrow. You should also use it for a sudden attack of toothache, stiff neck, backache, stings, bites and the many accidents that are incidental to a vacation. "We would as soon leave our baggage as go on a vacation or camp out without Sloan's Liniment." Writes one vacationist: "We use it for everything from cramps to toothache." Put a bottle in your bag, be prepared and have no regrets. At all druggists. Its

WAS UNDER WATER SEVEN MINUTES

Vernie Betz, of Wheeler Brothers Show, Doubled Up and Blue With Cramps, Nearly Drowned

SAVED BY "BOUNDING GEORGE"

Company Physician Dr. Troutman and Dr. R. A. Belse Aid in Resuscitation of Betz

Vernie Betz of the Wheeler Bros. shows, bathing in the Mississippi near the big tent Wednesday evening, was taken with a cramp and after yelling for help sank under the piers of the railway bridge. The man, who is an assistant of Fred Cone, who has the eleven polar bear act, was under water full seven minutes.

His cries were heard and "Bounding George," or George Lossen, wearing his suit ready for the big show, dived in and fished out Betz. The latter was doubled up and blue from cramp.

On shore James Dougherty, the blacksmith, "Blackie" the horse doctor and other notables rolled him over a barrel and a log. Dr. Troutman, the circus physician helped restore Betz and was also assisted by Dr. R. A. Belse, mayor of Brainerd, who had been at the circus.

People lined the banks while the rescue work was under way and while resuscitation was carried on. At the point where Betz sank 200 feet from shore, the river is deep and swift and full of dead heads.

HE EATS WITH THE CIRCUS

Dispatch Reporter Guest of Wheeler Brothers Show, Invited to Dine by Dr. H. F. Troutman

Wheeler Brothers show toyed with fate Wednesday when they invited the Dispatch reporter to dine with them in the tent. It had been a busy day for the reporter with a small lunch at noon and the news gatherer eagerly accepted the invitation of Dr. H. F. Troutman to eat with the circus folks.

Before the meal had proceeded very far, H. L. Kelly, the steward, saw that the fourth estate was in a fair way to eat its way through the whole bill of fare and he said with conviction: "Believe me, it's a good thing this show isn't loaded up with newspaper men who have an appetite like you."

Dr. Troutman looks after all the ailments of the circus family, but judging by the way everyone ate supper at 4 o'clock, want of appetite did not affect anybody.

"About the only trouble the performers have," said the doctor, "is when they fall and break a rib or two. Otherwise circus people are the healthiest lot of mortals you ever saw."

The cook tent was located to the west of the main top near the flour mill side track. It was shortly after 4 o'clock that the reporter and Dr. Troutman dined. At that early hour many of the performers were enjoying their evening meal.

There was no distinction as all were given the same service. Being in the open air continually gave every one an appetite of the North Dakota harvest hand order. It was a first class meal in every respect. There was roast pork two inches thick, done to a turn, snowy potatoes, cabbage, onions, bread and butter, iced tea, coffee or milk, preserves, bananas and cream.

"We bought in Brainerd today some of the finest milk and cream we secured on our entire route," said Mr. Wheeler. "You certainly have some of the best dairies of the state in Brainerd."

For two hours at each meal the dining tent is kept open. And "three squares" a day are served, of the same substantial kind.

Kelly, the steward, has been with shows for years since he was coffee boy with Adam Forepaugh. Fourteen years ago he bought his first supplies in Brainerd from Con O'Brien. Kelly is an Elk and belongs to the lodge at Newton, Iowa, and when he finishes his show career, he is going to run a boarding house at Newton for circus people exclusively, and has promised to keep no books.

CARNIVAL WEEK STARTS MONDAY

C. A. Wortham Guarantees Decency of all Shows—Train Arrives Sunday Evening

THE STAGE IS ALL SET IN CITY

Thirty Double Length Cars Needed to Carry the Big Show Company

The stage is set and Brainerd is waiting the coming of the C. A. Wortham shows, which will exhibit in Brainerd under the auspices of the park board, for the entire week starting next Monday evening. The big show train, 30 double length cars, with its burden of gorgeous wagons, mysterious trappings and an array of "show folks," will arrive in Brainerd Sunday evening. Monday morning the wonderful "tented metropolis of diversion" will begin to assume shape and by eventide every show and riding device will be ready for operation. Myriad electric lights will make the "Wortham Glad Way" a dazzling thoroughfare of bewildering brightness. There will be inspiring music, singing and dancing girls, slight of hand performers, strange looking folks doing strange things for the amusement of the multitude, before the shows start.

There is no more pleasing sight than a big carnival organization, with proper shows, properly presented; with the flare, kaleidoscope of color, bright lights and alluring sights. A trip through the show grounds generally makes a booster for an organization of the proper kind and C. A. Wortham has sent his guarantee to Brainerd that each and every show with his aggregation will be of the most proper calibre. Mr. Wortham declares that there is not an attraction, not a corner of the big show grounds, where unescorted women and children cannot visit with every sense of propriety and security. Brainerd will welcome and liberally patronize an institution of that kind.

Every form of amusement from the simple fun rides on the merry-go-round and ferris wheel to acts that set the blood racing through the veins, at the reckless stunts of some of the performers, are presented. The entire gamut of diversion is run and there is some show that is bound to appeal to each member of the family. There are several attractions of a character never before presented with a carnival company.

There are electrical and mechanical shows that for ingenuity are astounding and must be seen to be appreciated. The animal circus has everything from a monkey on roller skates and riding bicycle, to the thrilling battle between man and black maned, forest bred, African lions, and there are trained birds, ponies, dogs, etc.

"The Follies of Life" present dare devil men and women riders who do stunts that make the hair raise and stay "raised"; there is a wealth of magnificence about "My Lord's Fan" that amazes; aroma of the far east permeates every nook and corner of Arabia Nights; the Panama canal instructs and Over and Under the Sea causes a thrill of patriotism to grip spectators; genius of the inventor is seen in the Model City and the Athletic show is a demonstration of the many art and physical culture by both men and women; the world's strangest people are gathered under the banner of Krali's Wonderful Pike's Peak is "some show"; Toyland takes the traveler back to childhood days and excites the laughter that only a healthy child can produce; Dave Morris, the world's greatest comedian, rides the cow that "jumped over the moon" right into the "House that Jack Built," with Lady May and her enormous family. For a brand new, never before in this section of the country there is the Whip, a riding device that can't op-

A ROMANCE OF BAGDAD.

Peculiar Story of Nazim Pasha and an Armenian Beauty.

A remarkable tale of Nazim Pasha, the commander in chief of the Turkish armies against Bulgaria in the Balkan war, is told by Sir William Willcocks, K. C. M. G., in an article in Blackwood's Magazine:

"After Nazim Pasha became wali of Bagdad there lived in one of the best houses in the place an Armenian girl of eighteen, who was very pretty, very wealthy and an orphan. All the young Armenians in the Turkish empire were eager suitors for her hand, but she would have none of them. The wali invited her to his palace and told her that in her unprotected condition she might get into trouble, but that if she were to marry a countryman of hers in his household she would have both a sterling husband and his own protection. She accepted, but on reaching her home sent the nazim word that she preferred remaining single.

"You shall remain single for life!" said the wali, and put a cordon of soldiers round her house, which prevented her from leaving it.

"She escaped to the French convent one day, dressed as a French nun, and the cordon of soldiers moved to her new residence. After some delay she escaped as a French monk, took refuge on Lynch's boat and sailed for Basra under the British flag. Bouts full of soldiers surrounded the steamer at Basra, but the girl ran across the deck, jumped into the Russian consul's boat and took refuge under the Russian flag. The consul saw her safely on to the British India steamer, and she descended at Bushire, in Persia.

"Not many months afterward Nazim Pasha himself was deposed and ordered to return to Constantinople. He returned there finally and was, as we all know, murdered by the Young Turks."

Warmth Not Wanted.

"This would be a pleasant world if people put more warmth—genuine warmth—in their letters," said the man of sentiment.

"I don't agree with you," replied his worried friend, "there was a warmth about some of the business letters I got this morning that I didn't at all like."

Snobbery.
Snobbery is the counterfeit coin in the bank of society.

Snobbery is the veil that tries to cover a multitude of sins—"veil" because it can be seen through and "tries" because it usually fails.

Snobbery is the hole in the doughnut; all that is good is outside of it.

Snobbery is disease; it renders impure an originally pure product by implanting in it the germ called "a swell-head."

Snobbery is expensive; it is excess baggage.

Snobbery is what chloroform is to the surgeon; it paralyzes the patient, but is exceedingly treacherous.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Musk Deer.
Musk is obtained from a sort of gland or pouch of the male musk deer, and it is secreted only during certain seasons of the year. The musk deer is a small animal, seldom more than three feet long and twenty-two inches in height. It is becoming more and more scarce every year and at the present rate will eventually become extinct.

CHEERFUL WOMEN

Despondency is a thing of evil origin and evil results. Worry produces nothing but wrinkles and wretchedness. Let the reader put up a little note on her bureau, on her desk, and at the head of her bed, just two words, don't worry. Worry is the greatest foe to the happiness of any household. An anxious, despondent face, a fretful, complaining voice, will make every one uncomfortable.

A woman's nerves are more truly the cause of worry than outside troubles. The nerves are of a woman's body the telegraph system, which surely warns her of any trouble in the feminine make-up.

Dr. Pierce, during a long period of practice, found that a prescription made with glycerine, entirely of roots and herbs, without the use of alcohol, cured over ninety per cent. of such cases. After using this remedy for many years in his private practice he put it up in a form that would make it easily procurable.

Women are earnestly advised to take it for irregular or painful periods, backache, headache, displacement, catarrhal condition, hot flashes, sallow complexion and nervousness.

For girls about to enter womanhood, women about to become mothers, and for the changing days of middle age Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription should always be on hand. In liquid or tablet form.

Write Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for free 136 page book on woman's diseases. Every woman should have one. Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, cloth-bound, sent free to you on receipt of 3 dimes (or stamps) to pay the expense of mailing only. Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

If you are troubled with Indigestion, Constipation, Biliousness, Bilious Headaches, and a hundred and one ills which depend upon an inactive liver, use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.—Adv.

GATHERING DATA TO FILE PROTEST

United States Will Object to British Blacklist.

HURTS AMERICAN COMMERCE

Names of Persons and Firms With Whom Britons Must Not Trade Are Made Public, Most of Them Being Located in New York and None in the Northwest.

Washington, July 19.—Information gathered in an investigation which has been in progress several weeks probably will be incorporated by the state department in vigorous representations to the London foreign office, objecting to the placing of individuals and firms living in the United States on the black list promulgated under the trading with the enemy act.

The list was made public. It contains no names of Northwest firms or persons, most of them being in New York.

Although the British government in its last communication to the United States on the subject declared the act was "purely domestic legislation to restrict the activities and trade of persons under British jurisdiction," the investigation made by the state department is said to have convinced the officials in reality it operates to restrain American commerce.

The department's investigation has been conducted in various sections of the world. A mass of data has been obtained. In Stann one American firm was informed it would appear on the blacklist if it has business dealings with a German firm.

Neutral steamship companies, including American corporations, are understood to have been informed that if they carry goods to German firms in neutral countries, such as those in South America, they will be denied the courtesies of British ports such as Jamaica, where many ships stop to coal and supply.

Measure Has Wide Range.

Furthermore, according to statements made here in official quarters, persons all over the world, including Americans, have been told they will be placed on the blacklist if they have any dealings whatsoever with German concerns.

So broad is the scope of the act that should any American firm deal with those whose names appear on the American list they may find themselves added to it.

Publication of a blacklist for America came as no surprise to the state department, which has been watching the situation closely.

Although withholding formal comment until officially notified of the development many officials are known to feel it is no concern of Great Britain's if firms in the United States or their branches abroad desire to trade with German firms in other countries and that while Great Britain might have the right to specify what merchandise should be carried by her own ships she has no right to take discriminatory action against the American concerns.

This position, it is said by those who hold it, is amply backed by precedent. Great Britain herself having made objections to attempts to injure the trade of an enemy at the expense of a neutral.

SULZER AIMS TO FORCE STAMPEDE

Seeks Prohibition Nomination for President.

HANLY DELEGATES CONFIDENT

Supporters of Indiana Candidate Assert He Will Be Choice of Convention—Dr. Ira D. Landrith May Secure Second Place on Ticket.

St. Paul, July 20.—"Plain Bill" Sulzer will come to St. Paul for the avowed purpose of stampeding the Prohibition national convention and snatching the presidential nomination from J. Frank Hanly.

His arrival at the Auditorium will be the signal for a demonstration by Sulzer adherents and an effort will be made to sweep the delegates off their feet and force his nomination by acclamation before the echoes of his speech have time to die away.

This was the plan announced by Charles J. Haaga, who introduced himself to a few delegates as Mr. Sulzer's confidential secretary. He declared Mr. Sulzer will be welcomed uproariously and will try his hand as a stamper.

But the Hanly slate will be a hard one to break. The Indiana man's steering committee, headed by Alonzo E. Wilson of Chicago and including Permanent Chairman Robert H. Patton of Springfield, Ill., held absolute sway over the sessions.

When Mr. Wilson and his co-workers closed their final conference the stage was set for the nomination of Mr. Hanly for president and Dr. Ira D. Landrith for vice president.

So confident were the Hanly leaders that their plans cannot go awry that Chairman Patton announced his entire

willingness to permit William Sulzer to address the convention whenever the privilege is asked.

Mr. Wilson said a poll of delegates showed that Hanly would have the support of two-thirds of the convention on the first ballot. Apparently his assertion was justified and many delegates who had been opposed to Hanly announced their intention to support him.

COURT DISMISSES FRANKSON CONTEST

St. Paul, July 20.—The petition of thirty-two citizens of Minneapolis, Wayzata and Kenyon to annul the election of Thomas Frankson as candidate of the Republican party for the office of lieutenant governor of the state was ordered dismissed by Judge Hascall R. Brill in district court.

The dismissal was granted on the motion of H. A. Loomis, attorney for Mr. Frankson, because G. S. Grimes, a petitioner, was unable to get twenty-four of the litigants into court to testify that they are legal electors and entitled to vote.

A stay of twenty days was granted to prepare an appeal.

Mr. Frankson was accused by the petitioners of spending about $40,000 in his successful campaign for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor. The corrupt practices act allows a maximum of $3,500 for campaign expenses.

About $3,000,000 a day in the yellow metal may be expected from now on, most of it coming via Ottawa.

Postmaster General Burleson told the National Association of Postmasters, in convention at Washington, that if revenues from second class mail were increased, "extravagance for useless political service" in the rural mail system were curtailed and payments to railroads for mail transportation under the new space basis were reduced he could recommend to congress next year that letter postage be reduced to 1 cent.

DELAYS VOTE ON MEASURE

Senator La Follette Opposes Large Naval Expenditures.

Washington, July 20.—An attack by Senator La Follette on the general preparedness program as the product of agitation by moneyed interests, aided by the metropolitan press, prevented a final vote in the senate on the naval bill.

The Wisconsin senator had not completed his speech when the senate adjourned and did not indicate how long he planned to continue.

Senator La Follette contended vigorously that neither conditions confronting the nation nor the testimony given before the congressional naval committees warranted the proposed navy increases.

Despondency is a thing of evil origin and evil results. Worry produces nothing but wrinkles and wretchedness. Let the reader put up a little note on her bureau, on her desk, and at the head of her bed, just two words, don't worry. Worry is the greatest foe to the happiness of any household. An anxious, despondent face, a fretful, complaining voice, will make every one uncomfortable.

A woman's nerves are more truly the cause of worry than outside troubles. The nerves are of a woman's body the telegraph system, which surely warns her of any trouble in the feminine make-up.

Dr. Pierce, during a long period of practice, found that a prescription made with glycerine, entirely of roots and herbs, without the use of alcohol, cured over ninety per cent. of such cases. After using this remedy for many years in his private practice he put it up in a form that would make it easily procurable.

Women are earnestly advised to take it for irregular or painful periods, headache, dizziness, displacement, catarrhal condition, hot flashes, sallow complexion and nervousness.

For girls about to enter womanhood, women about to become mothers, and for the changing days of middle age Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription should always be on hand. In liquid or tablet form.

Write Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for free 136 page book on woman's diseases. Every woman should have one.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, cloth-bound, sent free to you on receipt of 3 dimes (or stamps) to pay the expense of mailing only. Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

If you are troubled with Indigestion, Constipation, Biliousness, Bilious Head-aches, and a hundred and one ills which depend upon an inactive liver, use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.—Adv.

GATHERING DATA TO FILE PROTEST

United States Will Object to British Blacklist.

HURTS AMERICAN COMMERCE

Names of Persons and Firms With Whom Britons Must Not Trade Are Made Public, Most of Them Being Located in New York and None in the Northwest.

Washington, July 19.—Information gathered in an investigation which has been in progress several weeks probably will be incorporated by the state department in vigorous representations to the London foreign office, objecting to the placing of individuals and firms living in the United States on the black list promulgated under the trading with the enemy act.

The list was made public. It contains no names of Northwest firms or persons, most of them being in New York.

Although the British government in its last communication to the United States on the subject declared the act was "purely domestic legislation to restrict the activities and trade of persons under British jurisdiction," the investigation made by the state department is said to have convinced the officials in reality it operates to restrain American commerce.

The department's investigation has been conducted in various sections of the world. A mass of data has been obtained. In St. Paul one American firm was informed it would appear on the blacklist if it has business dealings with a German firm.

Neutral steamship companies, including American corporations, are understood to have been informed that if they carry goods to German firms in neutral countries, such as those in South America, they will be denied the courtesies of British ports such as Jamaica, where many ships stop to coal and supply.

Measure Has Wide Range.

Furthermore, according to statements made here in official quarters, persons all over the world, including Americans, have been told they will be placed on the blacklist if they have any dealings whatsoever with German concerns.

So broad is the scope of the act that should any American firm deal with those whose names appear on the American list they may find themselves added to it.

Publication of a blacklist for America came as no surprise to the state department, which has been watching the situation closely.

Although withholding formal comment until officially notified of the development many officials are known to feel it is no concern of Great Britain's if firms in the United States or their branches abroad desire to trade with German firms in other countries and that while Great Britain might have the right to specify what merchandise should be carried by her own ships she has no right to take discriminatory action against the American concerns.

This position, it is said by those who hold it, is amply backed by precedent. Great Britain herself having made objections to attempts to injure the trade of an enemy at the expense of a neutral.

SULZER AIMS TO FORCE STAMPEDE

Seeks Prohibition Nomination for President.

HANLY DELEGATES CONFIDENT

Supporters of Indiana Candidate Assert He Will Be Choice of Convention—Dr. Ira D. Landrith May Secure Second Place on Ticket.

St. Paul, July 20.—"Plain Bill" Sulzer will come to St. Paul for the avowed purpose of stampeding the Prohibition national convention and snatching the presidential nomination from J. Frank Hanly.

His arrival at the Auditorium will be the signal for a demonstration by Sulzer adherents and an effort will be made to sweep the delegates off their feet and force his nomination by acclamation before the echoes of his speech have time to die away.

This was the plan announced by Charles J. Haaga, who introduced himself to a few delegates as Mr. Sulzer's confidential secretary. He declared Mr. Sulzer will be welcomed uproariously and will try his hand as a stamper.

But the Hanly slate will be a hard one to break. The Indiana man's steering committee, headed by Alonzo E. Wilson of Chicago and including Permanent Chairman Robert H. Patton of Springfield, Ill., held absolute sway over the sessions.

When Mr. Wilson and his co-workers closed their final conference the stage was set for the nomination of Mr. Hanly for president and Dr. Ira D. Landrith for vice president.

So confident were the Hanly leaders that their plans cannot go awry that Chairman Patton announced his entire

willingness to permit William Sulzer to address the convention whenever the privilege is asked.

Mr. Wilson said a poll of delegates showed that Hanly would have the support of two-thirds of the convention on the first ballot. Apparently his assertion was justified and many delegates who had been opposed to Hanly announced their intention to support him.

COURT DISMISSES FRANKSON CONTEST

St. Paul, July 20.—The petition of thirty-two citizens of Minneapolis, Wayzata and Kenyon to annul the election of Thomas Frankson as candidate of the Republican party for the office of lieutenant governor of the state was ordered dismissed by Judge Haasler R. Brill in district court.

The dismissal was granted on the motion of H. A. Loomis, attorney for Mr. Frankson, because G. S. Grimes, a petitioner, was unable to get twenty-four of the litigants into court to testify that they are legal electors and entitled to vote.

A stay of twenty days was granted to prepare an appeal.

Mr. Frankson was accused by the petitioners of spending about $40,000 in his successful campaign for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor. The corrupt practices act allows a maximum of $3,500 for campaign expenses.

Postmaster General Burleson Hints at One-Cent Rate.

Postmaster General Burleson told the National Association of Postmasters, in convention at Washington, that if revenues from second class mail were increased, "extravagance for useless political service" in the rural mail system were curbed and payments to railroads for mail transportation under the new space basis were reduced he could recommend to congress next year that letter postage be reduced to 1 cent.

Senator La Follette Opposes Large Naval Expenditures.

Washington, July 20.—An attack by Senator La Follette on the general preparedness program as the product of agitation by moved interests aided by the metropolitan press, prevented a final vote in the senate on the naval bill.

The Wisconsin senator had not completed his speech when the senate adjourned and did not indicate how long he planned to continue.

Senator La Follette contended vigorously that neither conditions confronting the nation nor the testimony given before the congressional naval committees warranted the proposed navy increases.

GERMANS PLAN SUBMARINE POSTAL SERVICE.

Dream Life.

I called aloud in the forest, and the shout came back. Then I searched long to find who answered me, but the sound had no source. I followed the will-o'-the-wisp through swamps at evening. It led me hither and yon, but I came nowhere. It was only the ghost of a light. I saw an apple hanging in the depths of a pool. I stopped to pick it and laved my hands in the water. The apple had no form. This is dream life.—Atlantic.
